PAUL ALLEN

Paul Allen is in his fifth year as Chairman of the Portland Trail Blazers.

"If the off-season was any indication, the coming year should prove to be one of the most exciting ever for the Portland Trail Blazers and our fans," Allen says. "We're coming off of a very busy summer of improving an already outstanding roster. In addition to extending the contract of head coach Rick Adelman we have brought talent, both in the form of experience and youth, to our team. The last three seasons have shown that our goal of bringing an NBA championship to Portland is within reach. We are committed to doing what needs to be done to help achieve our goal, and we feel the addition of these new players brings us closer to a title.

"Off the court, we have made strides in the major undertaking of bringing a premier, multi-use entertainment facility to Portland," Allen says. "Together with the Portland community we hope to create a complex that will bring numerous benefits to everyone in the area. Our goal is to give the Blazers a new home for the 1995-96 season.

Allen, together with fellow Seattle native Bill Gates, founded the computer software firm Microsoft in 1975. The 39-year-old Allen currently serves on the Microsoft Board of Directors and is the company's second-largest shareholder. Allen also serves on the Board of Egghead Discount Software.

In 1985 Allen founded Asymetrix Corporation in Bellevue, Washington, and serves as its Chairman and President. Asymetrix launched its first product, ToolBook, in May, 1990. Asymetrix is the leading provider of multimedia tools and applications software for Windows.

A resident of Mercer Island, Washington, Allen attended Lakeside School in Seattle and Washington State University.

BERT KOLDE

Bert Kolde serves as Vice-Chairman of the Trail Blazers.

"We have significantly improved ourselves with our off-season roster moves," Kolde says. "I am eagerly looking forward to this season and to being in the thick of the battle for the NBA title. The addition of Rod Strickland and Mario Elie to an all-star backcourt of Clyde Drexler and Terry Porter gives us what many regard as the NBA's premier guard corps. Up front, we've added some talented young players to blend with our veterans. Last season, the players and basketball staff teamed up to win 57 games and came within two victories of a world title. The Blazers should be title contenders for years to come.

"Our office staff, under the guidance of Harry Glickman, Geoff Petrie and Marshall Glickman continues to maintain its level of excellence," Kolde adds. "The on-going growth of the television, cable and radio broadcast networks has made Blazer basketball available to more fans than ever before throughout the region. While the planning and development of a new arena headlines our most visible efforts, the organization continues to work behind the scenes in many community programs that benefit people of all ages and economic brackets. We're proud to be able to use our position in the community to benefit people from all walks of life."

Kolde is also Executive Vice-President of Asymetrix Corporation. Prior to joining Asymetrix, Bert was a Vice-President in the Finance Group at Seafirst Bank in Seattle. Bert earned his Bachelor's degree in Finance from Washington State University, after which he served as a U.S. Army officer in the Panama Canal Zone. He completed his Masters in Business Administration at the University of Washington in 1980.

Kolde and his wife Alison have two sons, Bronson and Sterling, and daughter Sasha.

IMAGINE NO LIMITS

HARRY GLICKMAN

The Portland Trail Blazers, one of the most successful franchises in all of sports and a model for other organizations in professional basketball, point to the accomplishments of one man as the foundation for their rise to the top.

The man is Harry Glickman.

It was more than just a fitting tribute to the highly successful Blazer president when he was enshrined in the Oregon Sports Hall of Fame in August of 1986.

The success of the Trail Blazers has been unequalled since Glickman first began wooing a franchise to Portland as early as the mid-1960's. In January of 1970, Glickman went to the league meetings of the NBA in Philadelphia with the backing for a franchise. Expansion into San Diego, Phoenix and Seattle, coupled with the transplanting of the Minneapolis Lakers to Los Angeles and Philadelphia Warriors to San Francisco, opened up the West Coast to the predominantly eastern league and enhanced Portland's bid for a team.At the Philadelphia meetings, Glickman found the ground rules had changed and the ante had been increased for an expansion team. He returned home empty-handed but that initial setback was shortlived. A month later with new financial backing, the Portland Trail Blazers were born at a meeting in Los Angeles.

Just seven seasons into existence, the Blazers brought a world championship to the city of Portland. Glickman's initial commitment to putting Portland at the forefront of the NBA has never wavered, avoiding the complacency that sometimes accompanies success.

Following the 1991-92 season the Blazers had sold out an astour ding 683 consecutive home games at Memorial Coliseum. That's easily the longest string by any team in any sport. With the demand for tickets, and Blazermania, running higher than ever, there's no end presently in sight.

Glickman was born in Portland and graduated from the University of Oregon School of Journalism in 1948 following a stint in Germany during World War II. He served as director of the university's athletic news bureau as a sophomore and covered the Ducks for The Oregonian during the era of Norm Van Brocklin, one of Glickman's close friends.

Plans to become a sportswriter were tabled as Glickman began to open doors for himself in the area of promotions and publicity. After founding Oregon Sports Attractions in 1952, he devoted his efforts to promoting boxing, professional football and the Harlem Globetrotters, as well as non-sports related activities such as the Northwest tour of Judy Garland and Liberace.

A pre-season football game between the Los Angeles Rams and the Chicago Cardinals in 1952 was staged by Glickman at Multnomah Civic Stadium. With more than 29,100 fans in attendance, it was his first sellout. He continued to bring the NFL to Portland until 1969.Glickman served as manager of Multnomah Civic Stadium in 1958 and 1959.

In the fall of 1960, Glickman brought professional hockey back to Portland after a 10-year absence, organizing the Portland Buckaroos of the old Western Hockey League. During the '60s, the Buckaroos finished first seven times and second twice in one nine-year stretch. They smashed every attendance record in professional hockey outside the then tightly-knit six-team National Hockey League. Glickman was named Hockey Executive of the Year by Hockey News in 1965.

Glickman's commitment to improving the quality of life for the people of Oregon has not been limited just to providing the benefits derived from the realm of sports. He is active in a wide variety of civic affairs.He is a member of the board of directors of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Oregon and U.S. Committee Sports for Israel. He's a Director Emeritus of the Oregon Sports Hall of Fame. In addition to his place in the Oregon Sports Hall of Fame, Glickman has been named to the Webfoot Society of the University of Oregon. He and Blazer center Kevin Duckworth became the first inductees of the Portland chapter of the University's Hall of Fame. Each year the State of Oregon's top professional athlete is honored with the Harry Glickman Professional Athlete of the Year award at The Oregonian Banquet of Champions.

Glickman and his wife, Joanne, have two daughters, Lynn and Jennifer; a son, Marshall; and grandson, Joel. Marshall is Senior Vice-President of Marketing with the Trail Blazers.

JO ALLEN PATTON

Jo Allen Patton is in her first year as Senior Vice-President and Owner's Representative for the Oregon Arena Corporation. She has served as Owner's Representative to the Portland Trail Blazers for the past year and an owners' representative in the construction industry for the past three years.

With the Oregon Arena Corporation, Patton is responsible for coordinating the work of contractors and architects on the arena project, and representing the interests of Chairman Paul Allen. "The arena in extremely significant project to be working on. It will be a tremendous addition to the city of Portland," Patton said. "We are planning a facility that should be a source of pride for the entire community and one that everybody can enjoy."

Patton's professional experience has been in both the business and non-sprofit sectors and includes evelopment work with the Pacific Northwest Ballet. A resident of Bellevue, Wash., she serves on the Washington Academy Performing Arts Board, the Meany Hall Advisory Board and the Lakeside School Building and Grounds Committee.

Patton and her husband, Brian, are the parents of son Duncan. Her hobby interests include work in tapestry, weaving, rug making and other areas of fiber artistry.

MARSHALL GLICKMAN

As Senior Vice-President of Marketing for the Portland Trail Blazers, Marshall Glickman is responsible for overseeing Blazer Broadcasting, sponsor sales and services, creative services, communications, special events, managment information systems and tickets. He is spearheading efforts to bring a new basketball arena to the city of Portland that would serve as home to the Blazers and other major events.

Glickman started with the Blazer front office in 1983 as manager of the team's cable operations. In 1986 he left the club to accept a position as Broadcast Coordinator for the National Basketball Association. After one year, Glickman was promoted to Director of Media Sales for the NBA. He returned to the Blazer organization in August 1988 as Director of Business Development. Glickman was promoted Vice-President of Marketing in August, 1988. He was promoted to his current position in June of 1990.

An Oregon native, Glickman graduated from Lewis & Clark College in 1981. He is member of the City Club of Portland, the Portland Executives Association and the American Advertising Museum Board of Directors. Glickman lists tennis, golf and music as his hobbies.

GEOFF PETRIE

Geoff Petrie, the first-ever Portland Trail Blazer, enters his third year as Senior Vice-President of Operations for the team. He oversees the areas of basketball operations, scheduling, team travel and accounting.

Petrie enjoyed a busy off-season during the summer of 1992 that included restructuring within the basketball operations department, extending the contract of head coach Rick Adelman, and overseeing several roster moves. The Blazers signed free agents Rod Strickland and Mario Elie, traded for Tracy Murray, drafted Dave Johnson and Reggie Smith, and re-signed veteran Mark Bryant.

Petrie, 42, served as analyst on the Blazers' radio broadcasts for five years before moving into the front office on a full-time basis July 1, 1990. He has played a role in the basketball activities of the team the last eight years and presently handles contractual negotiations.

A graduate of Princeton, Petrie shared co-Rookie of the Year honors with Dave Cowens of the Boston Celtics after being Portland's first draft selection prior to its inaugural season of 1970-71. The former 6-foot-5 guard stands third on Portland's career scoring list (9,732), third in assists (2,057) and ninth in games played (446). He averaged 21.8 points in six NBA seasons. His uniform number, 45, was retired October 1, 1981.

Proud Sponsor Of The Portland Trail Blazers.

BRAD GREENBERG

Brad Greenberg, the Blazers' director of player personnel the past three seasons, enters the 1992-93 season with the promotion to Vice-President of Player Personnel. He assists in the job of inner-league communication regarding roster management decisions, coordinates the day-to-day management of the scouting operation, and continues to work in all aspects of evaluation and acquisition of college, professional and international talent.

Greenberg spends much of the season scouring the colleges, CBA and international leagues for talent. His off-season is devoted to sizing up talent at summer league games and at international amateur events. Since Greenberg assumed his player personnel position in 1989 following two years as a team scout, the Blazers have completed significant roster moves including the acquisition of Buck Williams, Rod Strickland and Tracy Murray, and the drafting of Cliff Robinson and Dave Johnson. He oversees a comprehensive scouting data base that assimilates information from thousands of scouting reports.

The 38-year-old Greenberg has eight years of NBA experience, including two seasons as assistant coach with the Los Angeles Clippers and one with the New York Knicks. He carried the dual roles of coaching and player personnel for two seasons with the Clippers. Greenberg played collegiate basketball under Jim Lynam at American University, graduating in 1977, and served as an assistant coach to him for one year at American followed by three seasons at St. Joseph's. Greenberg spent six seasons at St. Joseph's before joining Lynam in Los Angeles. In seven seasons in the collegiate coaching ranks, Greenberg's teams posted a 141-65 record and made two NCAA and three NIT appearances.

Brad and his wife Fran, a former Hoop Magazine columnist and CBA Director of Public Relations, live in Portland with their 6-year-old son Cory, and 1-year-old daughter, Ali.

BUCKY BUCKWALTER

After 15 seasons of service with the Blazers' basketball operations department, encompassing coaching, scouting and player personnel duties, Morris "Bucky" Buckwalter now serves as Senior Scouting Consultant. He assists with roster evaluation, specifically as it pertains to collegiate and international talent.

Buckwalter, 58, had served the Trail Blazers organization as an assistant coach and scout from 1979 through January of 1986 when he assumed the position of vice-president of basketball operations. He has earned a reputation for discovering talent from myriad sources, and his efforts have extended to every area of the globe. During Buckwalter's tenure, the Blazers drafted its current nucleus of Clyde Drexler, Jerome Kersey, Terry Porter and Cliff Robinson, and traded for Kevin Duckworth and Buck Williams. He was named NBA Executive of the Year following a 1990-91 season that saw the Blazers post a 63-19 record.

Buckwalter began his professional basketball career as an assistant coach with the Seattle SuperSonics during the 1972-73 season. He served as interim head coach late that season before becoming the club's assistant general manager the following year. Head coaching stints with the Utah Stars of the American Basketball Association, Fresno Stars of the Western Basketball Association and the Brazilian national team preceded a move to Portland.

A 1952 graduate of La Grande High School in eastern Oregon, Buckwalter paced his Blue Mountain Conference team to a fourth place finish in the state tournament his senior year. He played college basketball at Utah, where he was named all-conference his last two seasons. Those two final years saw Utah reach the NCAA tournament.

After serving as an assistant coach for eight seasons at Utah, Buckwalter took over as head coach at Seattle University in 1967-68 and in five seasons posted a sparkling 79-49 record, a .617 winning percentage.

Buckwalter's wife, Paula, and son, Bryan, are two of the Blazers' most visible supporters at games and functions. Bryan has worked with the team's broadcast crew.

RICK ADELMAN

Rick Adelman seems to be building a case for the old saying "Good things come in three's." In fact, if his Portland Trail Blazers can earn their way back to the NBA Finals, that old saying may become a fact of life for the team and its followers.

Three seems to be the magic number right now for Adelman and the Blazers. In Adelman's first three full seasons as head coach, he has guided his team to the Western Conference Finals three straight times. His accomplishments were rewarded July 29 when he signed a contract extension that will keep him at the helm for at least the next three seasons. And, the team spent the past off-season fine-tuning its roster in hopes of returning to the NBA Finals for a third time, where it hopes the ultimate "good thing" will be awaiting.

Adelman and the Blazers know, however, that it takes a whole lot more than the destiny that accompanies an old saying to win an NBA championship. They've done the things necessary the last three years to put themselves in position to win an NBA title, an achievement that still tops their list of goals entering the 1992-93 season.

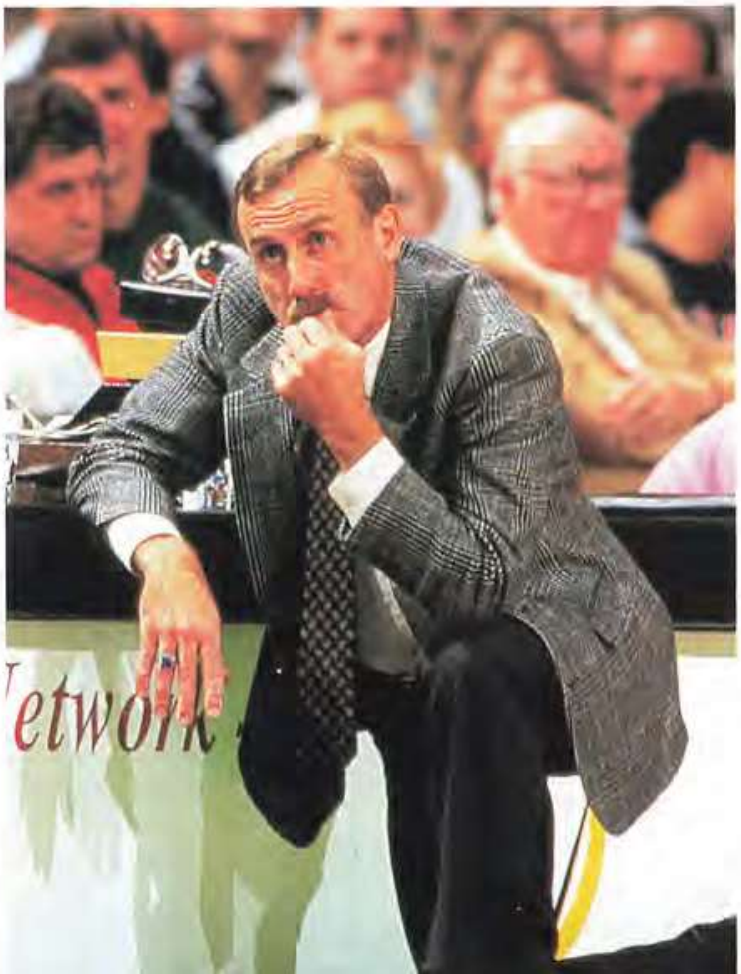
The foundation for the Blazers' success starts with their head coach. Since becoming the seventh head coach in Portland history on February 18, 1989, Adelman has posted a 193-88 record, a .687 winning percentage. In his first three complete seasons, he has registered a 179-67 (.728) record, the second-best mark in NBA history for a head coach in his first three full seasons. He is surpassed only by Hall-of-Fame Coach Jack Ramsay (453-367/.552) in victories earned by a Portland head coach.

"Rick has proven to be an outstanding head coach," said Portland's Senior Vice-President of Operations Geoff Petrie in announcing the extension to Adelman's contract that now runs through the 1994-95 season with an option for 1995-96. "He served the organization very well for six years as an assistant and has moved the team to the league's highest level as a head coach. He commands the respect of his players, management, front office and peers around the league."

Adelman was runner-up for NBA Coach of the Year honors in 1991, the season he also coached the West Team in the NBA All-Star Game, and was third in balloting the previous year. He has been selected NBA Coach of the Month on three occasions. During his tenure the team has broken nearly every franchise standard related to winning. His accomplishments don't go unnoticed by his players.

"Rick has been fabulous, he's done a super job," said Clyde Drexler late last season. "We had three or four starters who had troubles at the beginning of the sea-

"I like to coach the way I wanted to be coached when I was a player..."



for Busine

son, and for the first couple of months, were not able to play their regular game. Rick kept the team together until everyone got their act together. Rick has just done a phenomenal job.

"He has many strengths; that's one of the things that makes him so valuable," Drexler added. "He knows the game, he knows the players, he relates well, and he's a great X and O guy."

While the Blazers' achievements themselves are numerous, the fact that they've been reached with the style and character that Adelman brings to the job make them all the more meaningful. The records speak for themselves, but it's the compassion used by the media and players when talking about Adelman that best describe the manner in which he's guided the organization to the top.

"Rick can relate to the players; he played in the league," says guard Terry Porter. "He knows what it's like to play back-to-back games, the NBA schedule, and just the everyday routine in this league. He has a better understanding of how players think sometimes. That definitely helps."

"Of all the coaches I've played for, I think he really understands what he wants from his players," says 11-year veteran Buck Williams. "He wouldn't ask anything from Buck Williams or Cliff Robinson that he wouldn't ask from himself. Players really respect that."

Behind Adelman's less-is-more leadership style that seeks to "create an atmosphere where the player can succeed," the Trail Blazers have set the pace for the powerful Western Conference. Despite the presence of several outstanding challengers, the Blazers became only the fifth team in NBA history to win 57 or more games in three consecutive seasons. They again won the Pacific Division crown last season, despite the fact that the league's toughest division became the first in NBA history to feature six teams with winning records and won more games, 329, than any division in NBA annals.

As anyone who knows him would expect, Adelman takes the success in stride.

"I've never doubted the fact that I could coach, but anybody who has a pretty good record, no matter at what level you're at, generally has some pretty good talent," Adelman says. "I think I've been blessed with the team I inherited. It's a players league, but you have to work hard to give the players a chance to succeed.

"When you have a talented team, it helps. It makes you look pretty good, but it also puts a lot of expectations up there. I don't worry about how people perceive me. I just try to do the best that I can and let it go from there."

The approach that leads to Adelman's success has been formed from his experience as a player, community college coach, NBA assistant coach and as a family man. His basketball career began at St. Pius X High School in Downey, Calif. and at Loyola University, where he scored what was then a school-record 1,415 points (an 18.6 average) in four years, beginning with the 1964-65 season. His coach at the time, John Arndt, knew that Adelman would go on to be a success.

"He's always been a terrific guy," Arndt said. "He never scored 40—he was too unselfish a player to do that. Rick would do all the other things. He'd play defense and rebound. On top of that, he'd have four or five steals in a game and go after loose balls, too."

Rolland Todd, coach of the Trail Blazers in their first year, defined his team captain in a similar fashion.

"Basically Rick exemplifies the things we think are important to a winning player in the NBA," Todd said. "He's highly competitive, intelligent and an unselfish ball player; a leader by example, not vocally. Rick's a catalyst for the other four guys on the floor. He makes things happen for them as much as for himself."

Adelman was selected by Portland from San Diego in the expansion draft of 1970 and played three seasons with the Trail Blazers (1970-71 through 1972-73). He averaged 9.8 points and 4.6 assists in 237 games, establishing what then was a Portland record for assists with 413 (5.2) in the second season.

Overall, the 6-foot-2 guard played in 462 regular-season games during a seven-year stint in the NBA that included stops in San Diego, Portland, Chicago, New Orleans and Kansas City-Omaha. He recorded 3,579 points (for a 7.7 average), 1,606 assists (for a 3.5 average) and shot .415 from the field and .713 from the foul line.

After retiring from the NBA, Adelman returned to Loyola to earn a master's degree in history and then worked for a year with Converse in southern California before accepting a head coaching job at Chemeketa Community College in Salem, Ore. in 1977.

In six seasons at Chemeketa his teams amassed a 141-39 (.783) record, winning outright or sharing three Oregon community college championships and one Region 18 title. He also worked in counseling and taught physical education courses.

Jack Ramsay asked Adelman to join his coaching staff in Portland during the spring of 1983. He maintained his spot on the Blazer bench when Mike Schuler succeeded Ramsay in May of 1986. In addition to assisting during games and practices, much of his time was devoted to breaking down videotape and writing scouting reports on upcoming opponents. Game preparation became his specialty.

"Everybody has a job, and it has to be important to you. But its the people around you who are important. If you lose sight of that, you've lost everything."

RINGTHEBELL on Archive.org

After taking over for Schuler in February of 1989, Adelman's team overcame an unforgiving schedule and some key injuries to advance to the NBA playoffs for the 12th time in 13 years. The word "interim" was dropped from his job title and he was awarded the position outright May 11, 1989. Adelman signed his first contract extension February 20, 1990 and his current pact July 29, 1992.

"Basketball is a game of mistakes, especially at this level," explains Adelman. "If you can't accept that, you're going to inhibit your players' creativity. This is a player's league, You have to accept that. And I think you get a lot more out of people by being positive rather than negative.

"I like to coach the way I wanted to be coached when I was a player," he adds. "That's just the way I've approached it, and the players have responded well. I try to include the players (in giving input) because it is as much their team as mine. I don't feel like I'm up here and they're down there."

Adelman's popularity in Portland, known by some as Adelmania, is due as much to his lifestyle off the court as it is to his success with a clipboard. He spends as much time as he can with his wife, Mary Kay, and children Kathy, R.J., Laura and David. All four children play school sports and Rick attends as many games as possible. Friends and neighbors claim that Adelman is the same "guy next door" that he was before the bright lights of the NBA discovered the City of Roses. Much of his free time is devoted to involvement in his church, local boys clubs and speaking to a variety of business and civic groups.

"Family is the most important part of my life," says Adelman, who turned 46 years old last June 16. "Everybody has a job, and it has to be important to you. But it's the people around you who are really important. If you lose sight of that, you've lost everything."

And for Rick Adelman, winning has become a way of life.

JACK SCHALOW

Jack Schalow is in his eighth season with the Trail Blazers, and sixth year as an assistant coach. A veteran of collegiate coaching ranks and the Continental Basketball Association, Schalow has served the Blazers in a variety of capacities during his tenure with the club.

"Jack works very well with our players in a number of capacities," says Rick Adelman, who brought Schalow back to the bench from the scouting circuit when he ascended to the head coaching job in February of 1989. "He has considerable knowledge and experience that he's able to pass along. We're fortunate to have him with us."

Schalow joined the Blazers as a scout in December of 1985. Prior to undertaking those duties, he was the original head coach of the Wyoming Wildcatters in the CBA. In the 1982-83 season, the Wildcatters' first, Schalow guided the team to a runner-up finish in the league's Western Division. The next year, Wyoming won the Western Division and went the distance in the CBA championship series before falling to Phil Jackson's Albany Patroons in the final game. The 1984-85 season saw the Wildcatters win the Western Division regular season race but finish third in the division playoffs. In his three seasons at Wyoming, Schalow fashioned a 69-67 record and was runner-up for the CBA Coach-of-the-Year Award following the 1983-84 campaign. In February of 1991, Schalow joined Adelman and fellow assistant coach John Wetzel on the coaching staff of the West Team at the NBA All-Star Game.

Schalow is widely noted at the collegiate level as well. A graduate of University of the Pacific, Schalow served as freshman coach at his alma mater in Stockton, Calif. His other head coaching assignment came at Morehead State in Kentucky. Schalow also served as assistant coach at Duke, Louisiana State and Seattle University. Two of his five seasons at Seattle were as an assistant under Bucky Buckwalter, current vice-president of basketball operations with the Blazers.

Jack is the father of daughter of Traci Ann and son Terry. He and his wife, Valda, and children, Bridger and Lanie, reside in southwest Portland. When not on the basketball court, Jack can most often be found working out or working with his cutting horse, Smart Little Tari. A native of Velva, North Dakota, Schalow is an accomplished rider who has shown regionally and travelled across the country to develop his cutting abilities.

JOHN WETZEL

John Wetzel, a former player, assistant coach and head coach in the NBA, is in his fifth season with the Trail Blazers.

Wetzel, 47, was head coach with the Phoenix Suns during the 1987-88 season after serving as an assistant with the team for eight years. A veteran of seven seasons as a player with Los Angeles, Phoenix and Atlanta, he retired in 1976 (with averages of 3.4 points and 1.4 assists) only to return to the game as a coach two years later.

"John Wetzel is one of the most experienced assistants in the league," says head coach Rick Adelman. "He's been in the league a long time and knows the business very well. I'm very happy that he's a part of our staff."

Wetzel teamed with Adelman and Blazer assistant coach Jack Schalow on the coaching staff of the West Team at the 1991 NBA All-Star Game. He was an assistant coach in the 1981 classic while with the Suns.

A 199 6 graduate of Virginia Tech, his first coaching experience came during the 1978-79 season when he guided the Washington Lumberjacks of the Western Basketball Association to a 29-19 record.

Wetzel was an eighth-round selection of the Lakers in the 1966 NBA Draft but did not play that season due to a broken wrist. He was picked by Phoenix in the 1968 Expansion Draft but spent two years in military service before joining the Suns prior to the 1970-71 campaign. Following three seasons with Atlanta, Wetzel returned to Phoenix in time for the 1975-76 season that saw the Suns advance to the NBA Finals. In the summer of 1976, he became the first player to retire as a member of the Suns.

Wetzel and his wife, Dianne, have two sons, Mark and Paul. Wetzel's time away from basketball is often devoted to road running, hiking and sharpening an ever-improving golf game.

MIKE SHIMENSKY

Mike Shimensky is in his sixth season as trainer for the Trail Blazers. Now in his 12th year in the league, Shimensky began his NBA career with the San Diego Clippers in 1981.

During his tenure with the club, he developed a strong reputation that led to his being hired by the Trail Blazers prior to the 1987-88 season. He served as trainer for the West Team at the 1991 NBA All-Star Game in Charlotte.

After attending Centralia Junior College in Washington, where he played baseball and basketball, Shimensky graduated from Central Washington University. He was inducted into the athletics Hall of Fame at Central Washington in the spring of 1991. Shimensky earned a master's degree in athletic training at the University of Arizona in 1973 and served as that school's assistant trainer, working with basketball, football and track and field. He became the first certified full-time trainer in the Phoenix school system and regularly held training seminars through the Sports Medicine Clinic to benefit coaches, trainers and nurses by providing them with better insight in to sports-related injuries.

Shimensky is a member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association and the National Strength and Conditioning Association. He and his wife, Roberta, have three children, Daniel, Andrew and Lauren.

It's Family.

Neighbors . .

Neighbors helping neighbors is what the Trail Blazers community agenda is all about. It's true whether the Blazers are helping underwrite the construction costs of an outdoor basketball court for the Brentwood-Darlington Neighborhood Association or providing $33,500 from proceeds of the popular "1-2-3 Go Rip CIty" cassette project for the youth-gang outreach program at the House of Umoja.

We view community involvement as an opportunity and a responsibility.

The Blazers are very much a part of the Portland community, but truly we're Oregon's team. We have a variety of community programs that encompass the entire state and region. An example of that is the Blazers/AVIA Scholastic Improvement Concepts (BASIC) program. Now in its ninth year, BASIC has provided over 428,000 of our young people with an incentive for increased interest in reading, writing and personal achievement. Clyde Drexler serves as player chairman for the program which covers more than 1200 public and private schools throughout Oregon and southwest Washington.

Now in its fourth year, Project Graduation encourages high school seniors to pledge to celebrate their graduation at a drug and alcohol-free party. Currently, high schools in 22 counties throughout Oregon and southwest Washington participate in the program.

Last year, through the Blazers Charity Review program, more than 1000 charities throughout Oregon and southwest Washington received autographed memorabilia for use in auctions or raffles raising in excess of $200,000. Additionally, hundreds of organizations received financial support from the Trail Blazers and the Oregon Arena Corporation.

A PORTLAND TRAIL BLAZERS COMMITMENT

. . Helping Neighbors

Our commitment to the community goes way beyond dollars and memorabilia. Staff, players and coaches all donate time and energy to numerous community efforts. For example, Terry Porter and Jerome Kersey, both active supporters of the Boys and Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Portland, helped underwrite the Blazers Exchange Club, an incentive program designed to motivate youth in education, enhance self-esteem and instill community pride. The program gave Boys and Girls Club members the chance to travel to Phoenix each time the Blazers played the Suns during the 1991-92 season. They visited a Boys and Girls Club in Phoenix, a local-area school, regional attractions and attended the game against the Suns. In addition, the Boys and Girls Clubs of Portland received $60,000 from proceeds raised from sales of the very successful "Bust a Bucket" cassette project.

Each home game players and management jointly purchased 20 to 30 tickets through the Blazers' youth ticket program giving non-profit youth groups the opportunity to come to Memorial Coliseum and see a game.

The Blazers Wives Association is also heavily involved in community support. Last season, the wives produced the highly successful "Having a Ball Cooking" cookbook which to date has raised over $55,000 for the Dougy Center, a non-profit organization that provides support services for children and adults who have suffered the loss of a close family member. They also served as the honorary chair for the St. Vincent de Paul Holiday Food Drive and the Multiple Sclerosis Super Cities Walk.

Interaction with concerned citizens is a vital necessity for the success of our community agenda. That's why former NBA player Nick Jones has the primary responsibility of coordinating the Trail Blazers Speakers Bureau. Jones, the Blazers community activities coordinator, along with other staff members, visit hundreds of groups, schools and civic organizations each year to talk about a variety of subjects including team updates, career opportunities, "Stay In School," and "Just Say No."

The future holds even more commitment from the Trail Blazers. We have committed $30,000 and staff resources to Northeast Development Corporation's Adopt-a-Block program, which is helping revitalize depressed areas of Northeast Portland. Additionally, the Blazers and the Oregon Arena Corporation have pledged $500,000 for the construction of a 23,000 square-foot Boys and Girls Club in inner-northeast Portland.

The Blazers community agenda is designed to help make our city, state and region a better place to live. The success of our community programs is due largely to the dedication of the players, coaches, front office staff and sponsors, who recognize and readily accept their responsibility as role models and concerned citizens.

It is our belief that reinvesting in your community makes sense, but more then that, it's the right thing to do. The Trail Blazers will continue to focus time and energy into a proactive community agenda. We look upon community care as business' "preventative medicine of the 90's."

Improving the Quality of Life

The NBA, its teams and players share a commitment to supporting and improving the quality of life in their communities. On a national level, the NBA is involved in numerous public initiatives.

Since 1989, the NBA and the National Basketball Players Association have worked to draw attention to this country's alarming drop-out statistics through the national NBA Stay in School program. Created to urge students to graduate from high school, the Stay in School program uses the popularity and visibility of NBA players and coaches to encourage young people to develop self-esteem, set goals, and dedicate themselves to learning.

Through public service announcements on TV and radio and other awareness-building projects, the NBA and its players also support work of the Special Olympics, CARE, the National Committee for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Operation Prom/Graduation, a program that urges high school students to celebrate an alcohol-free prom and graduation season. The NBA also produces and airs PSAs saluting the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and celebrating Black History Month each February. During the 1991-92 season, the wives of NBA players and coaches developed a national program to highlight the importance of breast cancer screening for women.

ARCHITECTURE IS THE SCIENTIFIC ART OF MAKING STRUCTURES EXPRESS IDEAS.

– Frank Lloyd Wright

Every job is different. But to the contractors of NECA and electricians of IBEW, one idea always remains the same: to consistently perform the best electrical work possible.

Safely. On time. On budget.

After all, it's not just a project.

It's your vision come to life.

We make your job easier.

WE'LL MAKE YOU LOOK GOOD ON PAPER.

Some people judge a copier by it's printing quality. Is the type crisp, are the blacks dense, is the detail sharp?

Others judge a copier by the bottom line. Is it affordable, well built, and will it stand up over time?

Automated Office Systems carries a line of copiers for both kinds of people. Canon copiers are built to last with an advanced technology that will take it into the future. And because Canon copiers are reliable and affordable, they're also easier on your budget.

Canon is the world's leader in color copying and is leading the way in computer printing and total office connectivity.

Canon

At Automated Office Systems,we carry our own financing, which means you have plenty of lease and rental options to fit your business.

So whether your company needs the best possible image on paper or whether you need a copier that will put the black back in your bottom line, Automated Office Systems can make you look good on paper.

PENDING BLAZERS MILESTONES

The following are significant statistical milestones ahead for Portland players and the team entering the 1992-93 season.

CLYDE DREXLER

- Needs 143 points to reach 15,000 mark in career scoring ... averaged 25.0 points a game last season. The all-time Blazers scoring leader, Drexler goes into the 1992-93 season with 14,857 points. Jim Paxson is the only other Trail Blazer to score more than 10,000 points in a Blazers uniform, finishing with 10,003.
- Needs 33 blocked shots to move past Bill Walton into 2nd place on the Blazers' all-time list. Clyde goes into the 1992-93 year with 501. Bill Walton has 533. Mychal Thompson is the all-time Portland leader with 768. Drexler averaged 0.92 blocks a game last season.

TERRY PORTER

- Needs 634 assists to reach 5,000 in his career. He's already the Blazers' leader with 4,366. He averaged 5.8 assists last season and has averaged 701 assists a year in his last six seasons.
- Needs 1,468 points to reach the 10,000 level in his career. He's currently sixth on the the all-time Blazers scoring list with 8,532 points. Porter averaged 18.1 points a game in 1991-92 and has a career scoring average of 15.1 a game.
- Needs 24 three-point field goals to reach 500. He's the all-time Trail Blazers' leader with 476 and averaged 1.6 a game last season.
- Needs 34 free throws to reach 2,000 makes in his career. Porter, who averaged 3.8 conversions a game from the line in 1992-93, is second in Portland's career rankings behind Clyde Drexler's 3,060.
- Needs 30 steals to reach 1,000 in his career. When he does so, he will join Clyde Drexler as the only two Trail Blazers with 1,000 or more steals. Terry averaged 1.55 swipes last season. Clyde goes into the 1992-93 season with 1,528 career steals.
- Needs 63 games played to move ahead of Jim Paxson in total games played with 628 games. Porter played in all 82 Blazers contests last season. Clyde Drexler is the all-time leader with 709 games and Jerome Kersey enters the season in third place, two games behind Paxson, with 625.

JEROME KERSEY

- Needs 3 games played to move into second place on the all-time Trail Blazers' career list with 628. When he does so, he will surpasss Jim Paxson's 627. Clyde Drexler starts the season as the all-time leader with 709 games played.
- Needs 2 rebounds to move ahead of Sidney Wicks on the all-time rebounds chart for Portland. Kersey averaged 8.2 a game last season. He goes into 1992-93 in fourth place with 4,085, behind all-time leader Mychal Thompson (4,878), Clyde Drexler (4,351) and Wicks (4,086).
- Needs 2 steals to move ahead of Jim Paxson into third place on the Blazers' career ranking in this department. When he passes Paxson, three current Trail Blazers, Clyde Drexler, Terry Porter and Kersey will be 1-2-3 in steals.

BUCK WILLIAMS

- Needs 612 points to reach the 14,000 point mark in his NBA career. Buck, who averaged 11.3 points a game last season, begins 1992-93 with 13,388 points (a 15.3 per game average) in 11 NBA seasons with the New Jersey Nets and Portland.
- Needs 23 games to join the 900-game club in the NBA. He opens the 1992-93 season having played in 877 games in 11 seasons—242 of them with the Blazers—for an average of just under 80 games a year. He's played in all 82 games six times during his career and three other years missed two games or less.
- Needs 169 rebounds to reach the 10,000 mark in his NBA career. Buck averaged 8.8 boards a game for Portland last season. During his career, he's averaged 11.2 rebounds a game for a total of 9,831.

THE PORTLAND TRAIL BLAZERS

- Should Portland continue its remarkable record of sellouts—683 in Memorial Coliseum including regular season and playoff contests—the 700th straight sellout will occur on Sunday, January 3, when Portland plays Houston. The Trail Blazers' sellout streak is an all-time NBA record and currently the longest in all of sports.
- Portland's 34th home game of the 1992-93 season—Sunday, April 11, against Minnesota---will be its 1,000th in Memorial Coliseum, regular season and playoffs, since the franchise began in 1970.

DREXLER'S 1992 ALL-STAR SHOWING MVP CALIBER, BUT....

Clyde Drexler's sixth appearance in the NBA All-Star game was a big one. Clyde scored an all-time Blazer high 22 points on a10-of-15 shooting performance (including 2 of 4 from 3-point range), grabbed a team-high 9 rebounds and had 6 assists and 2 blocked shots. His effort sparked the West to a153-113 thrashing of the East in the 42nd All-Star classic in Orlando, Fla. Drexler started at guard alongside Magic Johnson and would have had a lock on MVP honors had it not been for an even more sensational performance by Johnson. Magic, returning to the court for the first time since announcing his retirement earlier in the season, scored a game-high 25 points (9 of 12 from the field, 3 of 3 three-pointers) and added 9 assists in 29 minutes.

PORTLAND YEARLY ATTENDANCE

• For the 15th consecutive season, all 52 of Portland's 1991-92 home games—41 during the regular season and 11 during the playoffs—were sellouts. That stretched Portland's record for consecutive homecourt sellouts for regular-season and playoff games to 683, an all-time National Basketball Association record and the longest current streak in all of sports.

• The last time the Blazers failed to sell out a game was on April 5, 1977, when 12,359 turned out for a game with Detroit. The 10 millionth Blazer fan came to Memorial Coliseum on November 27, 1990, to watch Portland play Phoenix.

• In Portland's first 22 seasons, the team has drawn 10,364,934 fans for 900 regular season games for an average of 11,517 a contest. For 966 regular season and playoff games since the franchise began in 1970, the Blazers have drawn 11,209,965 fans for an average of 11,605 a game.

• Portland attracted 769,246 basketball fans to its 41 road games in 1991-92, an average of 16,567 a contest. The road attendance count included a turnout of 38,610 for the February 22 game against Seattle in the Kingdome, a 1991-92 NBA season high. For the entire 82-game 1991-92 regular season, home and road, attendance was 1,207,654, an average of 14,727.

• In 21 playoff games in 1992—11 at home and 10 on the road, the Blazers drew 318,689 fans, an average of 15,716 a game. Road attendance for 10 playoff games totaled 176,921, a 17,692-per-game average.

• Total attendance at all Blazer games for the year, regular season and playoff, home and away, was 1,526,343 for 103 contests, an average of 14,819.

PORTLAND TRADE HISTORY

NOTES TO TRADE HISTORY

1. If a third team is not mentioned in the transaction then assume any draft pick is the choice of the team Portland is trading with or is Portland's choice.
2. If a draft choice acquired in a transaction is subsequently traded by Portland in that original deal, the choice is listed as 'choice traded.' Everywhere else when referring to a draft choice, the player eventually selected by Portland or by the team ultimately receiving the draft choice is shown in parentheses.
3. In trades only what actually happened is given. If a team has several options in a deal only the one it ultimately uses is given.
4. Names in boldface indicate players who actually played for the Blazers.

As of August 24, 1992

On July 5, 1983, Portland matched the offer sheet that Calvin Natt had signed with Cleveland. It was the only time, other than the matching of Terry Porter's contract in 1989, that the Blazers needed to exercise their right of first denial to retain a free agent.

1992 NBA FINALS--GAME-BY-GAME

BULLS 122, BLAZERS 89

Wednesday, June 3, Chicago Stadium

Portland shot 68 percent from the floor in the first quarter, traded Chicago basket-for-basket, and was within one, 45-44, with 6:34 remaining in the first half ... Michael Jordan, who scored 18 points in the first quarter alone, scored another 17 in the second period to boost the Bulls to a 66-51 intermission lead ... Jordan's 35 points in the half was an all-time NBA Finals record ... He finished the game with 39 points and 11 assists and tied another NBA Finals mark with six three-pointers (in 10 attempts), all in the first half ... Scottie Pippen just missed a triple-double with 24 points, 10 assists and 9 rebounds ... after Portland had pulled to within one (45-44), Chicago went on a 57-23 rampage over the next 18 minutes and heading into the fourth quarter held a 36-point lead, 104-68, a Finals record for a margin after three quarters ... the Bulls' 33-point game margin was two shy of the Finals record ... Clyde Drexler and Cliff Robinson led the Blazers with 16 points each ... Portland was 35 of 78 (.449) from the field while Chicago shot 50 of 91 (.549) ... the Bulls outrebounded the Blazers, 44-38 ... Chicago turned 21 Blazers turnovers into 34 points ... Leading Scorers: Portland--Drexler 16, Robinson 16,Porter 13, Bryant 10; Chicago--Jordan 39, Pippen 24, Williams 12, Grant 11, Armstrong 11.

Game 2

BLAZERS 115, BULLS 104 (OT)

Friday, June 5, Chicago Stadium

Portland bounced back with a strong first half, leaving the floor at intermission with a 54-45 lead ...Chicago, again led by Michael Jordan (who had 39 points in the game) outscored the Blazers, 32-16, in the third period to take a 77-70 advantage into the fourth quarter ... the Bulls lead jumped to 10 points, 92-82, with 4:26 to go in the game, which was when Blazers' scoring leader Clyde Drexler (26 points) fouled out ... but Portland, fueled by Terry Porter's seven points, went on a 17-7 run that tied the score at 97 at the end of regulation and force the game into overtime ... despite also losing Jerome Kersey to fouls during the OT, Portland outscored the defending NBA champions, 18-7 in the extra five minutes, led byDanny Ainge, who had an NBA Finals record-tieing 9 points in the OT ... Portland shot 42 of 84 (.500) for the game and Chicago, 41-86 (.477) ... the Blazers had a 42-41 advantage on the boards ... Leading Scorers: Portland---Drexler 26, Porter 24, Williams 19, Ainge 17, Duckworth 14, Kersey 12. Chicago--Jordan 39, Pippen 16, Paxson 16, Grant 10, Cartwright 10.

Game 3

Sunday, June 7, Portland Memorial Coliseum

The Western Conference streak of home court losses in the Finals reached nine games as Portland saw its own 1992 homecourt playoff win string broken at eight games ... Chicago went on a 30-14 run to close out the first half with a 54-45 lead ... Portland shot only .295 in the first half (15 of 38), while the Bulls were hitting at a .524 pace (22 of 42) ... the Blazers pulled to within three, 58-54, with 7:09 left in the third quarter but then went 6:57 without a field goal to fall behind 74-60 with 9:36 remaining in the game ... Portland was limited to a .359 (28 of 78) shooting mark from the field, the Blazers' second lowest playoff effort ever ... Portland's 84 points in the game tied its all-time scoring low for a playoff game ... Chicago shot .474 (37 of 78) for the game ... the Blazers had a slight edge in rebounds, 43-42 ... Clyde Drexler topped all scorers with 32 points, including a perfect 12-of-12 from the free throw line ...Leading Scorers: Chicago---Jordan 26, Pippen 18, Grant 18. Portland--Drexler 32, Ainge 12, Kersey 11, Duckworth 11.

Game 4

BLAZERS 93, BULLS 88

Wednesday June 10, Portland Memorial Coliseum

Chicago jumped to a 10-0 lead in the game's first four minutes and was up 22-9 before Portland rallied and closed to within one, 46-45 just before intermission ... the Blazers stayed close and finished the game with a 15-6 run, taking the lead for the first time at the 2:22 mark ... Michael Jordan, who had 32 points in the game, was held scoreless in the final 10:26 of the contest, and Scottie Pippen scored only four of his 17 points in the fourth quarter ... Clyde Drexler and Jerome Kersey led the Blazers with 21 points apiece ... Clyde also had 9 assists and 8 rebounds ... Portland had a big edge in the backboards battle, 45-33, led by Kevin Duckworth's 11 rebounds ... field goal shooting for the night was even---Portland 37 of 81 (.457) and Chicago 35 of 77 (.455) ... the victory was the first at home in an NBA Finals game for the Blazers since they won the title in 1977. (They lost three straight to Detroit in 1990 and Game 3 of the 1992 series three nights earlier) ... Leading Scorers: Chicago--Jordan 32, Pippen 17; Portland--Drexler 21, Kersey 21, Robinson 17, Porter 14.

Game 5

BULLS 119, BLAZERS 106

Friday, June 12, Portland Memorial Coliseum

Michael Jordan scored a Finals career high 46 points--the most playoff points ever scored against Portland--as Chicago led wire-to-wire to increase its Finals series lead to 3-2. ... the Bulls moved out quickly to a 10-2 lead, then had 10-0, 7-0 and 12-4 runs as the Blazers could come no closer than seven points until the issue had been decided late in the game ... the hosts were down, 56-44, at halftime ... Jordan scored his 46 points (which moved him into eighth place on the all-time NBA playoffs scoring list) on a 14-of-23 shooting night. He was 16 of 19 from the free throw line ... Scottie Pippen, for the second game in a row, narrowly missed a triple double, finishing with 24 points, 11 rebounds and 9 assists ... Clyde Drexler topped Portland with 30 points and had 10 rebounds ... Jerome Kersey led all rebounders in the game with 12 as Portland had a 45-34 boards advantage ... Portland shot .438 (35 of 80) compared with Chicago's .548 (40 of 73) ... Leading scorers: Chicago---Jordan 46, Pippen 24, Paxson 12; Portland---Drexler 30, Porter 17, Kersey 14, Ainge 14, Duckworth 13, Robinson 11.

Game 6

BULLS 97, PORTLAND 93

Sunday, June 14, Chicago Stadium

Portland, up by as many as 15 points in the second quarter, held a 50-44 halftime lead, and moved out to as much as a 17-point margin, 75-58, late in the third quarter ... Clyde Drexler and Jerome Kersey, who finished with 24 points apiece, and Terry Porter with 22, were the key ingredients in the Blazers' dominance ... Chicago, behind reserves Scott Williams, B.J. Armstrong, Bobby Hansen and Stacey King--went on a 14-2 run in the first three minutes of the fourth quarter, pulling to within three ... Portland scored a 1992 playoff low 14 points in the fourth quarter at the same time Michael Jordan was turning it on ... Jordan scored 10 of his game-high 33 points in the game's final 8 minutes ... the Bulls took their first lead at 4:01, at 89-87 ... the Bulls finished with a .521 shooting mark from the field (38 of 73) while Portland connected on 35 of 78 for a .449 percentage ... the Blazers set an all-time NBA Finals record by successfully converting all 21 of their free throw attempts ... Leading scorers: Chicago---Jordan 33, Pippen 26, Paxson 13. Portland--Drexler 24, Kersey 24, Porter 22, Robinson 10.

Four of the six lowest scores ever recorded by Portland playoff opponents came in 1992. The Lakers' notched the lowest ever---76---in the first round series-deciding game on May 3 (losing 102-76).Other lows in 1992 included 79, also by the Lakers, 88 by Utah and 88 by Chicago. Ironically, the all-time playoff high by an opponent, 151, also happened in 1992, that by Phoenix in the Suns' two-overtime 153-151 loss to the Blazers in conference semifinals.

We drool over dribblers.

Ordinarily, you would think of the newly renovated Vancouver Mall as just a big place to shop. But when the Trail Blazers are dribbling on the court, we, and all our stores turn into yelling, drooling, foot stomping fans. We're always cheering for them, whether they're burning up the home court, or smoking the competition out on the road.

VANCOUVER MALL

▲ BETTER THAN EVER BEFORE ▲

Nordstrom, Meier & Frank, Mervyn's, JCPenney, Sears and 115 specialty stores.
Located on SR500 between I-205 and Andresen.
Monday-Friday 10am-9pm; Saturday 10am-7pm; Sunday 11am-6pm.

BLAZERS vs. HAWKS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 125, HAWKS 117 at Portland

January 24, 1992 (Game 41, 28-13)

Atlanta and Portland dueled at a record pace from 3-point range but it took seven straight free throws—five by Clyde Drexler and two by Jerome Kersey—in the game's final 50 seconds to seal the Blazer victory ... the win was the third in a row and the 15th in 19 games for Portland ... it was also the 10th straight homecourt success ... the two teams combined to convert 19 3-point field goals with Atlanta hitting a club record 10, and Portland tying its all-time high with 9 ... Portland connected on eight straight field goals in a first quarter stretch and had 40 points in the first 12 minutes ... Atlanta roared back, sinking 15 of 19 from the field in the third quarter to take a 95-94 lead going into the fourth period ... Clyde Drexler's 29 points and Terry Porter's season-high 27 topped Portland ... Dominique Wilkins led all scorers with 34 and Kevin Willis had 17 rebounds for Atlanta.

BLAZERS 106, HAWKS 95 at Atlanta

March 13, 1992 (Game 64, 46-18)

Portland outscored the Hawks in every quarter to notch its season-best seventh straight victory while sending Atlanta to its seventh consecutive defeat ... commander of the Blazers' march through Atlanta was Clyde Drexler who tallied a game-high 33 points on a 13-of-21 shooting night. He also had 5 rebounds and 5 assists and scored eight straight points at a key juncture in the third quarter when Atlanta had pulled to within one ... Kevin Willis led Atlanta with 20 points but hac only 7 rebounds, thanks to the work of Buck Williams. It was the first time in 40 games Willis had taken fewer than 10 off the boards ... Rumeal Robinson had 18 points and 10 assists for the Hawks and Blair Rassmussen led all rebounders with 12, even though Portland topped the RB count, 49-42 ... the victory upped Portland's Pacific Division lead over Golden State to three games.

BLAZERS vs. CELTICS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 116, CELTICS 90 at Portland

November 10, 1991 (Game 6, 3-3)

The Trail Blazers put together their first two-game win streak of the season and ran their record against Eastern Conference teams to 3-0 with a convincing win over Boston ... Clyde Drexler went on a 10-point tear in the opening 2:40 of the third quarter to help Portland bury the Celts in the second half, 59-40 ... Drexler finished with a game-high 26 points in just 29 minutes of playing time ... for the second game in a row, all 12 Blazers put points on the board... Portland outrebounded Boston, 56-43, and captured 22 offensive misses for the second straight game ... Portland shot only .421 (40 of 95) but held the Celtics to a .387 (36 of 93) field goal output ... Celt stars Larry Bird and Kevin McHale were limited to 12 and 10 points respectively on a combined 10 of 33 shooting night ... Reggie Lewis led Boston scorers with 18 ... it was the biggest Trail Blazer margin over the Celtics since Portland scored a 118-87 victory on Dec. 9, 1977.

CELTS 152, BLAZERS 148 (2OT) at Boston

March 15, 1992 (Game 65, 46-19)

Missed free throws and a last-second leaning 3-pointer by Larry Bird spelled an end to a seven-game Portland win streak ... Bird, who had a triple double with 49 points, 14 rebounds and 12 assists, threw in his 3-point shot with 2 seconds remaining in regulation to send the nationally televised game into overtime ... the Blazers made only 4 of 8 free throws in the final minute of regulation, and blew a five point lead in the final 15 seconds ... they missed two free throws at the end of the first overtime, allowing Kevin Gamble's jump shot to send the game into a second overtime ... Portland missed four more from the line in the second OT and were 37 of 52 for the game, compared with Boston's 40 of 48 ... Clyde Drexler had 41 points and 11 assists, Terry Porter 29 points and Jerome Kersey 23 points and 14 rebounds ... the Celtic win broke a two-game Blazer win streak in the Garden.

BLAZERS vs. HORNETS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 115, HORNETS 93 at Charlotte

January 11, 1992 (Game 34, 22-12)

The Blazers bench came alive to outscore its Charlotte counterparts, 62-25, and helped Portland bounce back from a disappointing loss 24 hours earlier in Detroit ... Danny Ainge showed the way with a Blazer career-high 23 points and Cliff Robinson added 20 ... all 12 Trail Blazers saw action and eight of them logged 20 or more minutes of playing time ... Buck Williams was the top Blazer board man with 11 ... Portland equaled its season high with 52 field goals, shooting .468 (52 of 111), had a season-high 57 rebounds to Charlotte's 53, tied its season's mark in assists with 36 and had a season-high 14 blocked shots... the Hornets were .361 from the floor (35 of 97) ... Johnny Newman led Charlotte with 24 points ... Eric Leckner tied his career high with 12 boards ... the win increased the Trail Blazers' record over the Hornets to 9-0.

BLAZERS 120, HORNETS 104 at Portland

January 17, 1992 (Game 37, 25-12)

The Trail Blazers ran their record against the Hornets to a perfect 10-0 and upped their league-leading mark against the four latest NBA expansion teams—Charlotte, Miami, Orlando and Minnesota—to 37-1 ... Clyde Drexler paced Portland with 25 points and 11 assists in 30 minutes of action. He had 14 points and 6 assists in the first 12 minutes of the game ... seven Blazers scored in double figures ... Buck Williams had a season-high 15 rebounds including 14 at the defensive end as Portland dominated the boards, corralling a season-high 65 misses, compared with Charlotte's 42 ... Williams turned in another defensive gem, limiting the Hornets' Larry Johnson to just 12 points on a 4-for-9 shooting night ... Kendall Gill led Charlotte with 23 points ... the game concluded a run of seven consecutive games vs. Eastern Conference foes with Portland charting a 6-1 mark.

BLAZERS vs. BULLS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BULLS 116, BLAZERS 114 (2OT)

at Portland, November 29, 1991 (Game 15, 9-6)

Michael Jordan scored 40 points, including one of two foul shots with 4.2 seconds remaining in the second overtime period to give the defending NBA champions the victory ... Clyde Drexler had 38 points and 12 rebounds before fouling out late in the second overtime. He was 15 of 27 from the field but only 6 of 12 from the line ... Jordan hit on 16 of 39 field goal attempts and 8 of 10 free throws ... all five Blazer starters were in double figures and Jerome Kersey (21 points, 10 rebounds), Buck Williams (16 points, 10 rebounds) and Terry Porter (14 points, 15 assists) all had double-doubles ... the Blazers shot .516 (47 of 91) from the field and held Chicago to .458 while outrebounding the Bulls, 50-44 ... but Chicago turned 21 Portland turnovers into 26 points ... it was the second overtime game in a row for Portland and the third back-to-back OT combo in franchise history.

BULLS 111, BLAZERS 91

at Chicago, March 1, 1992 (Game 57, 39-18)

The Trail Blazers shot only .373 from the floor (31 of 83) and turned the ball over 23 times for 25 Chicago points as the defending NBA champion Bulls romped to an easy victory before a national television audience ... the win gave the Bulls a sweep in the series ... Clyde Drexler, with 26 points, was the only Portland starter to score in double figures and had a team-high 12 rebounds ... Michael Jordan led all scorers with 31 points, 9 rebounds, 7 assists and 3 steals, while the Bulls' Scottie Pippen tallied 20 and contributed 10 assists ... Chicago was .479 (45 of 94) from the field ... Portland outrebounded Chicago by a 55-40 margin ... the Bulls outscored Portland 28-12 in the final 7 minutes of the first half to take a 55-40 lead at intermission then went on a 10-2 run to open the third quarter ... it was the Trail Blazers' third loss in five games.

BLAZERS vs. CAVALIERS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 117, CAVS 106 at Portland

November 1, 1991 (Game 1, 1-0)

Portland opened its 22nd NBA season just as it had the previous five years: with a homecourt victory ... Clyde Drexler was spectacular in leading the Blazers with 31 points in 37 minutes, including a 14-20 effort from the field. He also notched 7 rebounds and 7 assists ... five other Blazers finished in double figures—Terry Porter with 18 points, Buck Williams 17, Jerome Kersey 16, Cliff Robinson 15 and Danny Ainge 10 ... Portland shot .511 (46 of 90) from the field ... Cleveland was .489 on 43 of 88 ... Portland lost the rebound battle, 42-38 ... Brad Daugherty was high for the Cavs with 23 points and had a game-high 14 rebounds ... Portland led the entire game, was ahead 60-48 at intermission and pushed the lead to as many as 18 midway through the final period ... Portland is now 16-6 in season openers and has won 11 of its last 13.

BLAZERS 121, CAVS 114 at Cleveland

January 14, 1992 (Game 35, 23-12)

Portland snapped an 11-game Cleveland home court win streak and handed the Cavs only their second setback in 17 on their own floor. Cleveland went into the game with the league's second-best record ... The Blazers shot .511 (47 of 92) from the field as all five starters turned in solid performances ... Clyde Drexler topped all scorers with 34 points, had 7 assists and was 11 of 18 from the field and 12 of 13 from the line ... Jerome Kersey had 14 points, 9 rebounds, 6 assists, 5 steals and 3 blocked shots ... Terry Porter contributed 19 points and 6 assists ... Portland dominated inside, outscoring Cleveland, 56-26, in the paint and beat the Cavs to the boards, 44-43 ... Mark Price led Cleveland scorers with 26 points and the Cavs' Brad Daugherty had a game-high 12 rebounds ... the victory gave the Trail Blazers a 2-0 season series sweep.

BLAZERS vs. MAVERICKS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 113, MAVS 88 at Portland

December 26, 1991 (Game 27, 17-10)

Dallas dropped its seventh straight in Memorial Coliseum and the Blazers posted their eighth straight victory and the ninth in their last 10 outings with the Mavericks ...Portland shot .544 (49 of 90) from the field and dominated the backboards, 55-30 ... at one point midway through the third quarter, Portland had a 37-12 rebound advantage ... the Blazer defense limited Dallas to .400 shooting (34 of 85) and the Mavs managed only 8 offensive rebounds and 7 second chance points all night ... Kevin Duckworth turned in one of his best performances of the season, scoring 18 points on a 9-of-10 shooting spree to go with 9 rebounds ... Clyde Drexler again topped all scorers in the game with 20 points and had 11 assists ... Cliff Robinson also had 18 points and Buck Williams led all rebounders with 12 ... Rodney McCray topped the Mavs with 15.

BLAZERS 103, MAVS 98 at Dallas

February 6, 1992 (Game 46, 32-14)

Portland built a 17 point halftime lead, increased it to 21 in the third quarter then had to hold off a furious Dallas rally to salvage a split in a two-game Texas invasion before the start of the All-Star break ... the Blazers won despite shooting just .376 (35 of 93) from the field ... key to the win was Portland's control of the boards, 60-53, including 25 at the offensive end ... Clyde Drexler led all scorers in the game with 32 points ... Jerome Kersey (14 points, 12 rebounds), and Buck Williams (12 points, 15 rebounds) both recorded double-doubles ... Rolando Blackman was high for the Mavericks with 26 points, including three straight 3-pointers in the game's final minute that made things uncomfortable for Portland ... Derek Harper had 24 for Dallas, 22 in the second half ... the Mavs' Terry Davis topped all rebounders with 16 ... it was the 18th time Portland had held an opponent under 100 points.

BLAZERS 109, MAVS 83 at Portland

March 24, 1992 (Game 69, 49-20)

Injury-riddled Dallas suffered its 14th loss in a row as the Trail Blazers defeated the Mavericks for the fifth straight time and the 11th time in the last 12 games ... the 83 points for Dallas was an all-time franchise low against Portland ... the Mavs were without the services of veteran guards Derek Harper, Brad Davis and Fat Lever, and forward Terry Davis, all out with injuries ... Dallas shot just .386 (32 of 83) for the game and only .311 (14 of 45) in the first half when it fell behind, 48-32 ... for the second home game in a row, no Blazer starter saw more than 30 minutes of action ... Terry Porter had a game-high 19 points and Robert Pack came off the bench to score a career high 16 points in 17 minutes ... the Blazers were .489 (44 of 90) from the floor ... Doug Smith led the Mavs with 15 points ... Portland moved four games up on Golden State in the Pacific Division race.

BLAZERS 100, MAVS 94 at Dallas

April 15, 1992 (Game 81, 57-24)

Strong play by the bench and a 20-point, 10-rebound performance by Buck Williams enabled the Blazers to gain a Texas split in their final road trip of the regular season ... Ennis Whatley, seeing 27 minutes of action off the bench as Clyde Drexler sat out his second straight game, had 9 points, 5 rebounds, 4 assists, 2 steals and 2 blocked shots ... Mark Bryant had eight rebounds and Alaa Abdelnaby tallied 10 points in strong reserve roles ... Whatley, Bryant and Abdelnaby combined for a 10-for-16 shooting night ... Williams' game high 20 points was the first this season as Portland's leading scorer ... trailing by one—83-82—with 7 minutes remaining, the Blazers went on a 9-0 run then relied on a pair of Williams baskets in the final minute to put the game away ... the win gave the Blazers a sweep of the four-game series with Dallas.

BLAZERS vs. NUGGETS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 120, NUGGETS 82 at Portland

November 12, 1991 (Game 7, 4-3)

A one hour delay in the game's start because of moisture on the floor didn't deter Portland from romping to its biggest win of the year ... the Blazers had a 14-point advantage after one quarter then outscored Denver 33-10 in the next 12 minutes to have a 63-26 cushion at intermission ... Denver's 26-point half was the lowest ever in a half by a Portland opponent and the fewest ever by a Nugget team ... Denver managed a meager 13-of-42 shot chart for the half (.310) and turned the ball over 12 times ... for the game, Denver was .400 on 36 of 90, while Portland shot .500 (44 of 88) ... eight Blazers, led by Terry Porter's 15 points, scored in double figures and all 12 Blazers marked in the scoring column for the third straight game. Every Blazer scored at least 6 points ... Portland had a 47-38 advantage on the boards ... it was Portland's fifth straight win over Denver.

NUGGETS 122, BLAZERS 111 at Denver

November 16, 1991 (Game 9, 5-4)

Portland's win skein ended at four as Denver rallied from a 61-56 halftime deficit to claim the victory ... the Nuggets outscored Portland, 66-50, in the final 24 minutes for the victory, breaking a Blazer three-game win streak in Denver ... The Nuggets, 26th in scoring in the NBA, ran up the highest opponent point total in the Blazers' first nine games ... Reggie Williams led the Denver onslaught with a game-high 31 points and rookie center Dikembe Mutombo recorded 18 points, 12 rebounds and 3 blocked shots ... Denver blistered the nets with a .568 shooting performance (46 of 81) while Portland was .494 (41 of 83) from the field ... Denver was a hot 26 of 39 (.667) in the second half ... the Nuggets outrebounded Portland, 41-36 ... Clyde Drexler, with 21 points, 9 rebounds and 6 assists, and Jerome Kersey, with 20 points, were tops for Portland.

BLAZERS 121, NUGGETS 112 at Portland

February 11, 1992 (Game 47, 33-14)

The Blazers found themselves in early trouble then regrouped to score their 13th straight home court victory and their 20th win in 25 games ... Denver, which lost its 10th game in 11 outings, moved out to an early lead and was ahead by 12 points, 57-49, with 1:58 remaining in the first half ... Terry Porter scored 8 of his 11 first half points in the final minute before intermission to pull Portland within five, 62-57 ... the Nuggets were within one, 111-110 with 2:18 to go in the game before an 8-2 run put it away for Portland ... Porter finished with 24 points and Clyde Drexler, fresh from a strong All-Star game performance, had a game-high 28 points ... Reggie Williams scored 19 to leadthe Nuggets ... the Trail Blazers outrebounded Denver, 50-35, and set season highs with 38 free throws out of 52 attempts ... Denver was 24 of 31 at the line.

March 4, 1992 (Game 59, 41-18)

Portland shot 60 percent from the field and got 74 points from its bench in recording its second victory in as many nights ... the victory gave the Blazers the series, 3 games to 1 ... Danny Ainge led all scorers in the game, coming off the bench to tally a season-high 23 with a 9-of-10 field goal shooting effort, including 2 of 2 from 3-point range ... Cliff Robinson added 21 points and Mark Bryant had a season high 18 while converting 6 of 7 shots ... the Portland bench collectively shot .692 (27 of 39) from the field ... as a team, Portland was 51 of 85 from the field while holding the Nuggets to a .388 percentage (33 of 85) ... Denver, in going down to its worst defeat of the season, outrebounded the Blazers, 41-39, but Portland blocked 10 Nugget shots and turned 23 Denver turnovers into 31 points ...Marcus Liberty came off the bench to lead Denver with 17 points.

BLAZERS vs. PISTONS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

PISTONS 113, BLAZERS 103 at Portland

December 13, 1991 (Game 22, 13-9)

Detroit snapped a 21-game regular season losing streak in Portland dating back to Oct. 19, 1974 ... it was the second homecourt loss in a row for the Blazers and their fifth in 14 home games this season.(Portland lost only five at home in all of 1990-91) ... it was also their third loss in four games ... the Blazers missed their first 13 field goal attempts and 18 of their first 20 in the fourth quarter as the Pistons pushed an 82-78 third quarter lead to a 106-85 margin with 4:21 remaining ... Isiah Thomas (22), Joe Dumars (22) and Dennis Rodman (20) were high scorers for Detroit, and Rodman had a career-high 25 rebounds ... Clyde Drexler topped Portland with 22 points and Alaa Abdelnaby had a career high 20 ... the Pistons shot .577 from the field compared with Portland's .398 ... Blazer Buck Williams missed the game to be in North Carolina for his mother's funeral.

PISTONS 86, BLAZERS 81 at Detroit

January 10, 1992 (Game 33, 21-12)

Portland opened a four-games-in-six-nights swing through the east with a tough loss in Detroit ... the loss gave Detroit its first series sweep over the Blazers since the 1973-74 season ... Portland dug a big hole for itself in the second quarter by hitting on only 4 of 20 field goal attempts and missing both free throws for just eight points ... the Blazers fired a lowly .311 (14 of 35) in the first half to fall behind by 15 at intermission ... for the game, Portland shot .398 (35 of 88) from the floor and Detroit was only slightly better at .400 (34 of 85) ... Detroit scored on 18 of 20 from the free throw line while Portland was 8 of 12 ... Clyde Drexler led Portland with 19 points, 13 rebounds and 7 assists but was only 6 of 18 from the field ... Mark Aguirre topped the Pistons with 21 ... Detroit guards Isiah Thomas and Joe Dumars combined for only 7 of 30 from the floor.

BLAZERS vs. WARRIORS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

WARRIORS 116, BLAZERS 112

at Portland , Nov. 22, 1991 (Game 12, 7-5)

Chris Mullin scored the game-winner for Golden State as the Warriors broke a four-game Blazer homecourt win streak ... Mullin buried a 17-foot jumper with 1.2 seconds remaining to break a 112-112 deadlock ... Portland built a 74-62 halftime lead by outrebounding the Warriors, 32-17. Golden State turned things around in the second half by taking control of the boards, 33-22, and outscoring the Blazers, 54-38 ... two 24-second violations and a 2-for-6 free throw performance in the game's final three minutes dashed Portland's hopes ... Clyde Drexler was again brilliant for the Blazers, scoring a game-high 31 points and adding 10 rebounds, 7 assists and 3 blocked shots ... Jerome Kersey had 16 boards ... Tim Hardaway had 30 and Mullin 25 for the Warriors.

WARRIORS 123, BLAZERS 118

at Golden State Dec. 20, 1991 (Game 25, 15-10)

Golden State's foursome of Chris Mullin, Tim Hardaway, Sarunas Marciulionis and Billy Owens combined to score 103 of their team's 123 points, including a season-high 40 points by Mullin on a 15-of-28 shooting performance. Hardaway had 28 points and 12 assists, Marciulionis 18 points, and Owens 17 points and 10 rebounds ... the Warriors win broke a two-game Blazer win streak ... Clyde Drexler topped Portland with 26 points and tied his career high with 16 rebounds ... Jerome Kersey (24 points, 10 rebounds), and Buck Williams (23 points, 14 rebounds) also had double-doubles for Portland ... Portland shot .424 (42 of 99) and the Warriors .500 (42 of 84) ... third-year Blazer forward Cliff Robinson set a franchise record by playing in his 189th consecutive game.

BLAZERS 124, WARRIORS 116 (OT)

at Golden State Jan. 28, 1992 (Game 42, 29-13)

Portland took over the top spot in the Pacific Division with the OT win... four Blazers were in double figures in rebounding—Jerome Kersey 15, Clyde Drexler 13, Kevin Duckworth 11, and Buck Williams 10 —as the Blazers pounded out a 60-46 board advantage ... the Blazers started slowly, shooting just .286 in the first quarter and trailed by 13 midway in the second quarter before a 17-4 run pulled them to within two at halftime ... Clyde Drexler topped all scorers with 39, Terry Porter had 25 and Jerome Kersey 23 ... Tim Hardaway, with 37 points, Chris Mullin 23, and Mario Elie, a career-high 23, led Golden State ... Hardaway and Mullin both played the entire 53 minutes for the short-handed Warriors ... Portland snapped a three-game losing streak to the Warriors.

BLAZERS 130, WARRIORS 122

at Golden State, April 5, 1992 (Game 75, 53-22)

Clyde Drexler, Terry Porter, Jerome Kersey, Kevin Duckworth and Buck Williams all made big contributions as Portland upped its Pacific Division lead to three games over the Warriors ... Drexler just missed a triple double with 34 points, 11 assists and 9 rebounds; Porter scored a season-high 31 points; Kersey tallied 23 and Duckworth 17, and Buck Williams had 9 points and 17 rebounds ... the Warriors shot .569 in the first half and led at intermission, 66-63, but Portland toughened its defense, grabbed the lead at 76-74 early in the third quarter and trailed only once thereafter ... the Blazers outrebounded Golden State, 49-34 ... Chris Mullin led all scorers with 37 but only 2 in the fourth quarter ... Tim Hardaway scored 28 and had 13 assists.

BLAZERS 110, WARRIORS 101

at Portland , April 7, 1992 (Game 76, 54-22)

The shorthanded Warriors had Portland down by 15 points midway in the second quarter before the Blazers staged a 17-7 rally to pull within five at halftime, 53-48 ... Portland then scored eight straight to open the third period and take the lead for good ... Terry Porter, hitting 4 of 9 from three-point range, led seven Blazers in double figures with 26 points ... Portland set two team records —14 three-point attempts in the first half and 22 for the game ... Chris Mullin had a game-high 30 points and Billy Owens scored 23 for the Warriors who were playing without guards Tim Hardaway and Sarunas Marciulionis ... the victory opened Portland's lead over the Warriors in the race for the Pacific Division title to four games.

BLAZERS vs. ROCKETS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

ROCKETS 106, BLAZERS 99 at Houston
November 5, 1991 (Game 3, 1-2)

Houston snapped a seven-game Trail Blazer win streak in the series and pushed Portland under the .500 mark for the first time since the 1988-89 season ... the Blazers led by as many as 17 points midway through the second quarter and were still ahead late in the final period ... but Portland, which had only seven turnovers in the game's first 43 minutes, gave it up six times in the final 4:30 and was outscored 12-2 by the Rockets in the last 2:10 of the game ... Clyde Drexler just missed getting a triple double, charting 18 points, 7 rebounds and 10 assists ... Rockets center Hakeem Olajuwon was high for the game with 27 points and 20 rebounds ... Portland shot .461 (41 of 89), compared with Houston's low .390 (32 of 82) but the Trail Blazers were beaten on the backboards, 55-45, and were only 14 of 24 from the line (.583), while Houston hit on 39 of of its 43 free throw attempts (.907).

ROCKETS 108, BLAZERS 106 at Portland
December 10, 1991 (Game 21, 13-8)

Houston scored 23 points on its final 10 possessions to wipe out a big fourth quarter Portland lead and hand the Blazers their fourth loss in 12 homecourt outings ... Portland was ahead 97-85 with 4:12 remaining in the game then watched as Houston scored 14 straight points in the next 2:51 to take a 99-97 lead and never look back ... Rockets center Hakeem Olajuwon led all scorers with 25 points, 15 in the final quarter, and had a game-high 14 rebounds ... Clyde Drexler (24), Kevin Duckworth (23) and Terry Porter (20) led five Blazer starters in double-figure scoring ... Drexler added a season-high 12 assists ... Houston's bench outscored Portland's 29-15 ... the Rockets were .506 (43 of 85) from the field while limiting Portland to .438 (39 of 89) ... the rebound battle was even at 43 ... Jerome Kersey missed his second straight game with a sprained right ankle.

BLAZERS 115, ROCKETS 95 at Portland
March 28, 1992 (Game 71, 51-20)

Hot second half shooting by the Blazers and, conversely, cold shooting by the Rockets, changed a close game into a rout ... after a 52-52 standoff at intermission, Portland connected on 24 of 43 (.588) of its shots in the final two quarters, compared with Houston's 12 of 36 (.333) ... the Blazers ended up shooting .529 (45 of 85) for the game compared with Houston's .408 (31 of 76) ... Clyde Drexler led Portland's second half surge, scoring 19 of his game-high 26 points after halftime ... Clyde also had a game-high 10 assists ... Terry Porter had 21 points for the Blazers and Otis Thorpe topped Houston scoring with 19 before fouling out late in the fourth quarter ... Portland, led by Buck Williams' 10 boards, won the rebound battle, 42-34 ... the loss was the fifth straight for the Rockets who played without suspended center Hakeem Olajuwon ... it was Portland's eighth straight home win and the 21st in the last 22 games.

ROCKETS 108, BLAZERS 96 at Houston
April 14, 1992 (Game 80, 56-24)

Houston, led by Otis Thorpe's hot shooting hand, kept its hopes alive for the final berth in the Western Conference playoffs ... Portland led only briefly in the opening minutes but pulled within four in the fourth period before the Rockets nailed down the win, their third in four games against Portland this season ... the Trail Blazers, with regulars Clyde Drexler and Jerome Kersey watching in street clothes while resting nagging injuries, shot just .407 (37 of 91) from the field ... the Rockets were .524 on 44 of 84, led by Thorpe's 11-of-12 performance ... Thorpe was high scorer for the game with 24 ... Kevin Duckworth for the second straight game paced Portland with 21 points and a season-high 13 rebounds ... Rockets center Hakeem Olajuwon had an off night with just 10 points and only 6 rebounds but rejected 7 Blazer shots ... Portland outrebounded Houston, 47-41.

BLAZERS vs. CLIPPERS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 132, CLIPPERS 112

at Portland, Nov. 19, 1991 (Game 10, 6-4)

Terry Porter supplied the firepower as Portland broke away from a 60-60 halftime tie and raced to a 20-point victory ... Porter scored 13 of his 16 points in a 22-6 Blazers run to open the third quarter ... Clyde Drexler had another huge night for Portland, scoring 39 points, 7 rebounds, 9 assists , 2 steals and 2 blocked shots. He was 17 of 30 from the field, including 3 of 4 from 3-point range ... Jerome Kersey had 28 points and 10 rebounds and four other Trail Blazers were in double figures ... Portland shot .536 from the field (52 of 97), while L.A. was .512 (42 of 82), the Blazers outrebounded L.A., 43-32, and Portland's 14 steals contributed to 19 Clippers turnovers and 20 Portland points.

LA Clippers	28	32	23	29	112	12,888
Portland	34	26	31	41	132

BLAZERS 106, CLIPPERS 91

at Los Angeles, Nov. 21, 1991 (Game 11, 7-4)

Portland made it a home-and-home sweep of the Clippers with another second half explosion ... Terry Porter, catalyst in the Blazers' breakaway third quarter rally two nights earlier did it again. He scored 9 of his 11 points to lead Portland in a 31-18 run on the Clippers in the third quarter. That broke up a close game that had L.A. leading, 51-50 at halftime ... ... Clyde Drexler was again the leader for Portland with 24 points, 11 rebounds and 5 assists ... Portland connected on 44 of 94 (.468) from the field, compared with the Clippers' 35 of 81 (.432) ... Portland, for the seventh time in eight games, outrebounded its opponent, this time 48-44 ... The win was Portland's 27th in 29 meetings with the Clippers and the 13th in the last 14 in the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

CLIPPERS 107, BLAZERS 106

at Portland, Feb. 16, 1992 (Game 50, 35-15)

James Edwards' fadeaway baseline jumper with 5.7 seconds remaining gave the Clippers their only lead of the game but it was enough to allow Los Angeles to snap a 13-game Portland home win streak ... it was only the second Clipper win in the last 32 games in Portland ... the Blazers jumped to a 12-point first quarter lead by holding L.A. to just 14 first quarter points, and still had a 10-point margin, 82-72, going into the final period ... but the Clippers scored on 10 of their final 11 possessions to earn the win ... Portland scored only one point in the final 1:40, misfiring on four straight possessions ... Clipper Danny Manning had 31 points to lead all scorers ... Terry Porter topped Portland with 29 ... the Blazers were minus Clyde Drexler, sidelined with a sprained toe .

BLAZERS 123, CLIPPERS 116

at Los Angeles Feb. 21, 1992 (Game 52, 37-15)

Portland buried a franchise record 12 three-pointers, outrebounded the Clippers, 49-30, and brought to an end a five-game L.A. winning streak under new coach Larry Brown ... Terry Porter had six of the Blazer three-pointers, four of them in the game's final 9 minutes when he and Clyde Drexler combined for 27 points to help ice the victory before a sellout crowd of 15,800 ... Drexler topped all scorers with 31 points and Porter finished with 30 ... Danny Manning was high for Los Angeles with 30 ... the Clippers trailed by 8 at halftime, then scored on 21 of 26 possessions for a 42-point third quarter ... L.A. had 73 second half points by shooting 29-for-40 (72 percent) from the field but Portland had a 72-point half of its own ... Portland outscored the Clippers 9-2 in the game's final 45 sceonds to break a 114-114 tie and avenge a 107-106 loss to L.A. a week earlier.

CLIPPERS 106, BLAZERS 100

at Los Angeles, April 9, 1992 (Game 77, 54-23)

Portland, playing the Clippers without Clyde Drexler for the second time this season, staged a dramatic second half rally but came up short ... down 96-85 with less than four minutes remaining, the Blazers outscored LA 15-4 to tie the game at 100 with 38.6 seconds left ... the Clippers scored the game's final six points , snapping a six-game Blazer win streak in the LA Sports Arena ... Terry Porter was Portland's leader, getting 30 points, 19 of them in the second half ... Danny Manning had a season high 34 points ... Portland outrebounded LA, 52-42 ... the Blazers made a game of it despite shooting just .393 (33 of 84) from the field ... Portland lost Robert Pack with a shoulder separation in the first half.

BLAZERS vs. LAKERS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 98, LAKERS 88 at Los Angeles

December 28, 1991 (Game 28, 18-10)

Portland won for the third time in four regular season games at the Los Angeles Forum ... it was the third straight victory for the Blazers ... Portland's defense allowed the Lakers to convert only .355 of their shots from the floor (33 of 93) ... Portland won the battle on the backboards, 56-50, including a 27-19 edge in the second half ... Portland shot .424 (39 of 92) for the game ... Clyde Drexler led all scorers with 22 points and had 8 assists and 9 rebounds ... Jerome Kersey had 16 points and 16 rebounds and Cliff Robinson scored 18 points ... Terry Porter led Portland's second half surge, scoring 12 of his 15 points, including two clutch 3-pointers ... James Worthy was high for the Lakers with 21 points.

Portland	28	20	24	26	98

BLAZERS 131, LAKERS 92 at Portland

January 21, 1992 (Game 39, 26-13)

Nine Blazers finished in double figures and all 11 who played scored as Portland handed the Lakers their second worst beating in franchise history... the only time Los Angeles lost by a bigger margin was April 20, 1990, when it was whipped by Portland, 130-88, also in Memorial Coliseum ... Clyde Drexler was high scorer for the game with 19 ... Portland's bench, led by Cliff Robinson's 16 and Alaa Abdelnaby's 14, outscored their Laker counterparts, 65-34 ... Sam Perkins led the Lakers with 18 points and A.C. Green had a game-high 10 rebounds ... Portland shot .590 (49 of 83) from the field and dished out a season-high 37 assists ... 28 of Portland's hoops were layins and the Blazers were 6 of 9 from 3-point range ... it was Portland's fourth straight win over the Lakers.

BLAZERS 105, LAKERS 101 at Portland

March 3, 1992 (Game 58, 40-18)

The Trail Blazers notched their fifth straight victory over Los Angeles while sending LA to its 10th loss in 11 games ... the Portland win came despite season record lows in field goal attempts (68) ... Terry Porter had 30 points (15 in each half) and 9 assists to pace the Blazers and boost them into a half-game lead in the Pacific Division race. Porter connected on 9 of 13 from the field, including 4 of 5 three-pointers ... Terry's two free throws with 8.9 seconds remaining made it 105-101 and iced the victory ... Elden Campbell led the Lakers with a career high 25 points ... LA lost coach Mike Dunleavy at halftime after getting his second technical foul.

LA Lakers	24	24	30	23	101	12,888
Portland	26	27	28	24	105

BLAZERS 98, LAKERS 93 at Los Angeles

March 18, 1992 (Game 67, 48-19)

The victory, the sixth straight for the Blazers over the Lakers, matched the longest success string in franchise history against LA... it was the fourth straight this season, marking the first time since 1977-78 Portland has taken four games from the Lakers in one campaign ... Cliff Robinson made 8 of 11 shots from the field including 7 of 7 in the first half for a team-high 18 points ... more importantly, he converted on both of his free throws in the game's final 3.5 seconds to stave off a determined LA rally ... Portland held a 91-76 lead with 6:35 to go in the game but the Lakers roared back to pull within three, 96-93, with 11.7 seconds remaining ... Sam Perkins led the Lakers, who played without injured starter James Worthy, with 22 points ... Portland won for the ninth time in 10 games despite having a season low 16-point fourth quarter and 41-point second half.

LA Lakers	19	22	24	28	93	17,505
Portland	26	31	25	16	98

LAKERS 109, PORTLAND 101 at Portland

April 18, 1992 (Game 82, 57-25)

The Lakers broke a six-game losing streak to the Blazers and averted the first series sweep by Portland since 1977-78 ... a big portion of LA's success in the nationally-televised regular season's finale was its control of the backboards ... the Lakers outrebounded Portland, 42-29, as the Blazers registered season lows in total rebounds as well as defensive boards (8) ... A.C. Green paced LA with 13 boards and Vlade Divac had 25 points and 9 rebounds ... Danny Ainge, starting in place of Clyde Drexler who was resting a sprained knee, led all scorers with a season-high 27 points ... Portland had the lead, 88-87, but after Kevin Duckworth's ejection and the loss of Cliff Robinson and Buck Williams via fouls (plus not having Jerome Kersey due to nagging hurts), the Blazers could not answer a late Laker rally.

BLAZERS vs. HEAT -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 124, HEAT 94 at Miami

December 3, 1991 (Game 17, 11-6)

Portland opened a four-game road trip by continuing its mastery of the Heat and Eastern Conference foes ... it was the ninth win without a loss in the Miami series and the ninth in the last 10 games against teams from the East ... Portland had double-figure scoring efforts from six players led by Terry Porter's 21. ... all 12 Blazers contributed to the point column for the fourth time this season ... Wayne Cooper came off the bench to grab 9 rebounds and block 5 shots in 14 minutes of play ... Portland had a season-high 13 blocks ... the Blazers shot .547 (52 of 95) from the field while holding Miami to .371 (36 of 97) ... Portland outrebounded the Heat, 56-45 ... Miami was without its suspended center Rony Seikaly ... Clyde Drexler, who had 16 points and 9 assists in 32 minutes, was named Edge NBA Player of the Month for November, the first such honor for him.

BLAZERS vs. NETS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 113, NETS 108 at Portland

January 31, 1992 (Game 43, 30-13)

The Trail Blazers outscored New Jersey, 13-3 in the game's last 4:30 to register their 11th straight win in Memorial Coliseum and the 17th victory in their last 21 games ... Portland led by nine going into the fourth quarter but a Nets rally put the visitors up by five with 4:37 remaining ... Terry Porter's clutch 20-foot jumper and a pair of free throws in the game's final minute iced the win for Portland ... a strong performance by the Blazer bench in the first half helped build a 62-56 lead ... the bench, led by Cliff Robinson, combined to shoot .765 (13 of 17) in the half. Robinson, who finished with 17, was a perfect 7-of-7 in the first two quarters ... Clyde Drexler led Blazer scorers with 20, Porter had 16, Kevin Duckworth and Buck Williams 15 each and Jerome Kersey 14 ... former Blazer Drazen Petrovic led New Jersey's scoring with a game-high 21 points, and Mookie Blaylock had 20.

NETS 98, BLAZERS 96 at New Jersey

February 27, 1992 (Game 55, 38-17)

A shorthanded New Jersey team whipped Portland, the NBA's top rebounding team, 64-38 on the backboards and hustled off with its first victory in 12 games against the Blazers ... the Nets win also broke a five-game Portland win streak at the Meadowlands where the Blazers had won seven out of eight, dating back to 1983 ... despite logging only 18 points in the third period, Portland was within four going into the final period ... Clyde Drexler, who had a game-high 31 points, scored on a 3-pointer with 45 seconds left to pull the Blazers within one, 97-96. With five seconds remaining Terry Mills blocked a Drexler layin attempt and the Nets had the win ... Mills and Chris Dudley, filling in for injured Net starters Sam Bowie and Derrick Coleman, had 19 and 17 rebounds respectively ... Portland shot a season-low .542 from the foul line (13 of 24).

BLAZERS vs. KNICKS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 96, KNICKS 91 at New York
January 15, 1992 (Game 36, 24-12)

Winning its second game in two nights and its third game in a row on the road, Portland moved into a tie with Golden State atop the Pacific Division standings ... the Trail Blazers used a 25-6 spurt in the fourth quarter to turn an eight-point deficit into a 95-84 lead ... Terry Porter ignited the Blazer surge, scoring 10 of his game-high 22 points in the fourth stanza ... Clyde Drexler had 21 points to go with 6 rebounds, 3 assists and 5 steals ... The Blazers, who shot .475 (38 of 80) for the game, held New York to a .400 (32 of 80) field goal chart ... Portland won despite of converting only 17 of 30 free throws and just 4 of 10 in the first half ... Portland outrebounded N.Y., 48-39 ... Xavier McDaniel topped New York in scoring with 20 but had only 1 point and was 0 for 7 from the field in the second half ... it was Portland's fifth straight win over the Knicks who were in first place in the Atlantic Division.

KNICKS 107, BLAZERS 96 at Portland
March 29, 1992 (Game 72, 51-21)

Patrick Ewing exploded for 17 of his game-high 33 points in the fourth quarter to pace the Knick win that broke a five-game Blazers win streak in the series between the two teams ... the loss was the first in Memorial Coliseum in eight games for Portland ... Ewing had a game-high 14 rebounds and 4 blocked shots as the Knicks whipped the Blazers on the boards, 50-37, including 40 at the defensive end ... it was the first time in 11 games Portland lost the boards battle ... it was a close contest until the last four minutes ... with 4:04 remaining, the score was tied at 88 but New York scored on 10 of its last 11 possessions while the Blazers were missing 6 of 7 shots ... Clyde Drexler led Portland in scoring with 22 but was only 8 of 24 from the field and had only 2 points and no field goals in the fourth quarter ... Buck Williams scored 20 on an 8-of-11 shooting night.

BLAZERS vs. MAGIC -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 124, MAGIC 115 at Orlando

December 4, 1991 (Game 18, 12-6)

Clyde Drexler was again the catalyst as Portland won its third straight game and the 11th of its last 14 ... the win moved the Blazers to the top of the Pacific Division race for the first time this season, a half-game ahead of Golden State and the Lakers ... Drexler had 34 points, 10 rebounds and 7 assists. It was his seventh 30 points-plus effort in his last 11 games ... Alaa Abdelnaby scored a career high 17 points on a 7-of-11 shooting night and took 13 rebounds, also a career high, in 20 minutes of action ... the Blazers continued their hot shooting on the road. After making .547 of their field goals the previous night in Miami, they were .551 (49 of 89) against the Magic, including .578 in the second half ... Orlando was .526 (41 of 78) and a franchise record 10 of 19 on 3-pointers, but only .639 (23 of 36) from the line ... the win upped Portland's record against Orlando to a perfect 7-0.

BLAZERS 104, MAGIC 89 at Portland

January 7, 1992 (Game 32, 21-11)

For the second time in three nights, Portland scored a wire-to-wire win that featured an early point avalanche ... The Blazers went on a 10-0 run midway through the first quarter to build a 22-6 lead and coasted to their eighth win without a loss against the Magic ... Orlando, with four players missing because of injuries, suffered its 17th consecutive setback ... Terry Porter led the way for the Blazers with 23 points, 11 assists and a season-high 6 steals. Cliff Robinson had 16 points and tied his career high with 11 rebounds. Clyde Drexler checked in with 18 points and 7 assists and Buck Williams had 12 points, including 8 for 8 from the line, a game-high 12 rebounds, and a season-high 4 blocks ... Nick Anderson led the Magic with 21 points ... before the game, Portland announced the release of veteran guard Danny Young and activated rookie Lamont Strothers.

BLAZERS vs. 76ers -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

SIXERS 105, BLAZERS 102 (OT)

at Philadelphia, Dec. 6, 1991 (Game 19, 12-7)

Portland dug itself a deep first half hole then nearly climbed out before Johnny Dawkins' 27-foot 3-pointer at the buzzer in overtime won it for the 76ers ... the Blazers were even at 24 after one quarter despite hitting only 2 of their first 11 shots and scoring just 6 points in the game's first six minutes ... things turned really ugly in the second quarter as Portland scored a franchise low 7 points in the period—a record low for any quarter in team history ... the Blazers were only 3 of 21 shooting and had 10 turnovers in the quarter ... the only Blazers finishing in double figures were Clyde Drexler with 38 (16 of 27 FGs), Alaa Abdelnaby, 17 (equalling his career high set two nights earlier) and Kevin Duckworth with 13 ... neither team shot well; Portland was .402 (39 of 97) and the Sixers .404 (36 of 89) ... Portland is now 1-2 in overtime decisions in its last six games.

BLAZERS 115, SIXERS 102

at Portland Jan. 5, 1992 (Game 31, 20-11)

Portland made its first 11 shots from the floor, jumped to a 12-0 lead in the game's opening 2:41 and breezed to a big homecourt win ... The Blazers, who never trailed in the game, had a 22-point halftime lead ... Cliff Robinson came off the bench to pace Portland, tieing his career high with 22 points. Terry Porter scored 20 and had 11 assists. Buck Williams had 19 on an 8-of-10 shooting night and Clyde Drexler chipped in with 17 points ... Ron Anderson topped Philadelphia with 22 on a 10-of-18 shooting performance while Charles Barkley added 21 but had only 3 rebounds ... Portland, shooting .643 in the first half on 27 of 42, finished with a .536 chart (45 of 84) ... The Sixers were .513 (39 of 76) ... Portland helped its cause with a season-high 36 assists ... Philadelphia outrebounded the Blazers, 37-35 ... it was Portland's fifth straight win in the Coliseum.

BLAZERS vs. SUNS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

SUNS 100, BLAZERS 76 at Portland

November 2, 1991 (Game 2, 1-1)

After a strong opening-night effort 24 hours earlier, the Trail Blazers turned in one of their worst performances ever ... their 76 points were just two shy of the all-time Portland scoring low experienced in Chicago in 1976 ... it was the biggest homecourt loss since Jan. 1, 1987, when the Lakers triumphed, 140-104 ... the Blazers scored only nine points in the second quarter, breaking a then team record low for the period ... in that second stanza, Portland was good on only 4 of 21 from the field (.190), and for the game just 30 of 84 (.357) ...Clyde Drexler led all scorers in the game with 27 ... guard Jeff Hornacek topped Phoenix with 26 points and had a career high 14 rebounds ... the Suns dominated the boards, 53-34, and had 10 blocked shots.

SUNS 132, BLAZERS 128 (OT) at Phoenix

January 19, 1992 (Game 38, 25-13)

In an NBC nationally televised game, Portland and Phoenix battled through one of the most exciting games of the season ... Jeff Hornacek scored 22 of his 28 points in the game's final 20 minutes, Tom Chambers had 36 points and Dan Majarle 27 to fuel the Suns, who won their seventh in a row and their 15th straight at home ... Clyde Drexler was equally sensational for Portland, scoring 39 points to go with 11 rebounds and 5 assists ... Terry Porter had 27 points and 10 assists, and Buck Williams had his second consecutive 15 rebound game ... Portland shot .485 from the floor and had five more field goals than the Suns, who were .518 in shooting ... the Blazers dominated the boards, 50-39, but Phoenix went to the line 52 times and had a 17-point advantage at the stripe.

BLAZERS 107, SUNS 97 at Phoenix

February 12, 1992 (Game 48, 34-14)

The Blazers used rebounding and tough defense to put an end to the Suns' 19-game homecourt win streak ... it also broke a string of three straight Phoenix victories in the head-to-head series ... Clyde Drexler was an assist shy of a triple double, recording a game-high 24 points, 11 rebounds and 9 assists... four Blazers were in double-figure rebounding as they beat the Suns on the boards, 51-39, including 21 offensive retrieves ... Portland jumped to an 8-0 lead in the game's first two minutes and was ahead 25-10 before settling for a 31-20 advantage after one quarter ... the Suns were without the services of Tom Chambers and Negele Knight, both out with injuries.

BLAZERS 129, SUNS 116 at Portland

February 18, 1992 (Game 51, 36-15)

Clyde Drexler returned to action after sitting out a game with a sprained toe to spark the Blazer win ... Clyde's team-high 28 points and a strong showing by the Portland bench offset a brilliant one-man show by Suns guard Kevin Johnson ... Johnson tallied 40 points in 44 minutes of action on a 17-for-24 field goal night that included 9 of 11 shooting and 19 points in the third quarter ...Cliff Robinson (17 points), Alaa Abdelnaby (14), Danny Ainge (9) and Robert Pack (8), collectively shot 60 percent from the field (21 of 35), outscored the Suns' reserves, 48-34, and rallied the Blazers in the second and fourth periods ... Terry Porter had 24 for Portland and Jeff Hornacek 21 for Phoenix who were missing forward Tom Chambers and guard Negele Knight, both out with injuries ... Portland hit a season-high .909 from the line (20 of 22), and tied a season high with 54 field goals.

SUNS 128, BLAZERS 111 at Phoenix

March 31, 1992 (Game 73, 51-22)

Jeff Hornacek and Kevin Johnson combined for 61 points and 24 assists as the Suns sent the Blazers to their second consecutive defeat—the first time since mid-December Portland had lost two straight ... Phoenix shot 76 percent in the third quarter and scored 44 points while breaking open a tight game with a 15-4 run at the quarter's end ... the Suns, who shot .595 (50 of 84) for the game, had a 123-97 margin with 3:30 remaining... Portland turned the ball over 20 times for 38 Phoenix points ... Hornacek had 34 points on a 14-of-19 shooting splurge, including 17 points in a 9:17 span of the third quarter ... KJ scored 27 and had 20 assists ... Terry Porter led the Blazers with 20 ... the win gave Phoenix the series, 3-2, for the second straight year.

BLAZERS vs. KINGS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 115, KINGS 110 at Portland

December 14, 1991 (Game 23, 14-9)

Sacramento never led in the game but the Blazers still had a hard time shaking the Kings ... Portland had 10 more field goals than the Kings but Sacramento kept it close by sinking 38 of 40 free throws ... Portland was .494 (44 of 89) from the floor while holding the Kings to .415 (34 of 82) ... in the first half, Sacramento was good on only 14 of 41 field goal attempts but converted 21 of 22 free throws ... Clyde Drexler had a strong game with 28 points, 8 assists and a game-high 10 rebounds ... Lionel Simmons led the Kings with 24 points, including 14 of 14 from the line ... Portland played without Buck Williams, in North Carolina for his mother's funeral, and Danny Ainge, out with a strained right knee ... it was the Kings' 14th consecutive loss in Memorial Coliseum ... the win broke a two-game homecourt losing streak for the Blazers.

BLAZERS 147, KINGS 107 at Portland

February 2, 1992 (Game 44, 31-13)

Portland buried the Kings under a series record point avalanche as nine Trail Blazers scored in double figures ... the 147 points was an all-time series high for a regulation game and the 40-point victory margin beat the old spread in the 105-game series by 14 points ... the Blazers had 85 points at intermission, one shy of the team's record for a half ... the 42 and 43 points in the first two quarters were both highs for the season ... Terry Porter led the Blazers with 21 points on a 9-of-12 shooting night ... Portland's starters combined for 32 of 51 from the field, .627 ... the team shot 54 percent, compared with the Kings' 43 percent ... the Blazer bench outscored Sacramento's, 69-31 ... Portland outrebounded the Kings, 53-34 and shot .875 (35 of 40) from the foul line ... the Kings' Spud Webb led all scorers with 23, 15 of them in the first quarter.

BLAZERS 107, KINGS 106 at Sacramento

February 14, 1992 (Game 49, 35-14)

Clyde Drexler's three-point play with one second left allowed Portland to avert its third straight lost to the Kings in ARCO Arena ... Clyde's game-winner capped a Blazer comeback from nine points down with six minutes remaining ... Portland fell behind, 56-48, at halftime after being outscored by the Kings, 27-14 in the second quarter ... the Blazers won despite shooting only .392 (40 of 102) compared with .523 (45 of 86) for Sacramento ... Terry Porter and the Kings' Spud Webb tied for high point honors with 22 each ... Drexler played despite a sprained left toe suffered in the second quarter ... the game's start was delayed 23 minutes when referees were unable to reach the arena because of weather conditions.

BLAZERS vs. SPURS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

SPURS 119, BLAZERS 93 at San Antonio

November 6, 1991 (Game 4, 1-3)

The Blazers' third straight loss was the longest slide since they dropped four in a row from Feb. 24 to Mar. 1 of the 1990-91 season ... it was the first time Portland was below the .500 mark four games into the season since the 1986-87 team opened with four straight losses ... San Antonio outscored the Blazers, 39-16, in the fourth quarter to ice the victory ... the final margin equalled the biggest ever for the Spurs in their 66 games with Portland, matching a 122-96 rout in 1981 ... Portland was only .378 from the field (34 of 90) while San Antonio shot .518 (43 of 83) ... The Spurs' Sean Elliott led all scorers with 28 points and David Robinson had 25 ... Kevin Duckworth topped Portland with 20 ... Portland was held under 100 points for the third straight game, the first time that had happened since February, 1989 ... Portland had the rebound advantage, 44-42.

BLAZERS 116, SPURS 111 at Portland

November 24, 1991 (Game 13, 8-5)

Clyde Drexler erupted for 48 points, just two shy of his career high and equal to the third highest ever by a Blazer, to lead Portland to its seventh win in nine outings ... Drexler had 29 points at halftime, just one off the team record held by Geoff Petrie ... Drexler's line read 17 of 28 in field goals (including 3 of 7 from 3-point territory), 11 of 13 free throws, 6 rebounds, 3 assists, 6 steals and 3 blocked shots ... Terry Porter (22 points, 10 assists) and Jerome Kersey (12 points, 15 rebounds) posted double-doubles ... David Robinson led the Spurs with 25 points, 20 rebounds and 9 blocked shots ... Portland won despite shooting just .376 from the field (38 of 101), and being beaten on the boards, 59-54 ... San Antonio was .463 (44 of 95) from the field ... the win assured Portland of having a plus record in November, its 14th consecutive winning month.

SPURS 95, BLAZERS 88 at San Antonio

February 4, 1992 (Game 45, 32-13)

The Spurs outscored Portland 17-4 over the final four minutes of the game, including 8 of 10 from the free throw line in the final minute to overcome a nine point Blazer lead and snap a six-game win streak ... Portland led 84-78 with 4:01 remaining in the game but scored only one more field goal the rest of the way ... the Blazers were whistled for five personal fouls and two technicals (causing Clyde Drexler's ejection) in that final minute ... David Robinson led the Spurs with his seventh career triple double, scoring 23 points, 14 rebounds and an NBA season-high 11 blocked shots ... Drexler tied Robinson for high-game honors with 23 ... the intense defensive game kept shooting percentages low on both sides, Portland was good on 36 percent and the Spurs 41 percent ... San Antonio had the advantage on the boards, 58-51.

BLAZERS 123, SPURS 97 at Portland

April 12, 1992 (Game 79, 56-23)

Clyde Drexler watched from the sidelines, resting a sore knee, but it didn't matter ... Portland never trailed in the nationally-televised game en route to cinching its second straight Pacific Division title and sewing up the best record in the Western Conference ... led by Kevin Duckworth and Terry Porter, the Blazers pulled away with a 19-7 spurt to end the first half. They led by 30 in the late going ... Porter had a game-high 28 points, thanks to a Blazer record-tying 6 three-pointers on 9 attempts. He also had 10 assists and 7 rebounds ... Portland was 9 of 16 from three-point range for the game ... Kevin Duckworth tied his season highs with 23 points and 12 rebounds ... Sean Elliott led the Spurs with 22 points ... it was Portland's first win in four tries on NBC television this year ... Portland has won 12 of its last 13 at home against the Spurs.

BLAZERS vs. SUPERSONICS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 96, SONICS 87 at Portland

December 22, 1991 (Game 26, 16-10)

Portland came from behind in the second half to post its sixth straight win over the Sonics and the 11th in 13 games against Seattle in Memorial Coliseum ... After trailing by 14 with 2:06 to go in the first half, Portland scored the last seven points to cut the margin to 49-42 at intermission ... a 9-0 run gave the Blazers their first lead at 60-57 and Clyde Drexler's layin to close out the third quarter put them ahead for good, 69-67 ... Portland outscored Seattle, 54-38, and beat the Sonics to the boards, 25-12, the second half ... Drexler led all scorers with 25 points ... Jerome Kersey (13 rebounds, 10 points) and Buck Williams (12 points, 10 rebounds) had their second double-doubles in as many games ... Benoit Benjamin was high for Seattle with 18.

Portland	21	21	27	27	96

BLAZERS 113, SONICS 109 at Seattle

January 23, 1992 (Game 40, 27-13)

A 14-0 run midway through the first quarter propelled Portland to a 24-12 lead ... the Blazers never trailed thereafter but still had trouble shaking the Sonics who were playing their first game under new head coach George Karl ... Portland was its own worst enemy most of the game, turning the ball over 19 times—eight in the first quarter and five in the first 3 minutes of the game—for 21 Seattle points ... the Blazer defense limited the Sonics to a .427 shooting night while connecting at a .538 rate themselves ... Seattle was able to stay close with a 24-11 advantage in free throw points ... Clyde Drexler led seven Blazers in double figure scoring with 20 points and had 12 assists ... it was the seventh straight regular season Portland win in the head-to-head series, the longest success string ever against the Sonics.

Portland	28	28	25	32	113

SONICS 113, BLAZERS 104 at Seattle

February 22, 1992 (Game 53, 37-16)

Seattle got its first win in eight regular season outings with the Blazers in front of a Sonics regular season record crowd of 38,610 in the Kingdome ... it was also the season's largest NBA crowd ... Eddie Johnson scored a game high 29 points to lead the Seattle effort ... the Sonics were good on their first seven shots from the field and jumped to an early 20-6 lead ... despite shooting only .395 in the first half, Portland managed to take a 46-45 lead at intermission ... Seattle, converting on 13 of 17 possessions, went on a 27-8 run to take a 93-77 lead with 6:58 remaining ... Clyde Drexler led Portland scorers with 25 points, 21 of them in the second half ... the Blazers were only 1 for 10 from 3-point range after hitting a club record 12 'threes' the night before against the Clippers.

BLAZERS 109, SONICS 97 at Portland

March 8, 1992 (Game 61, 43-18)

Clyde Drexler sparked a second quarter run that spurred Portland to it's fourth straight win and its sixth in a row at home over the Sonics ... Drexler was whistled for his third foul with 4:39 remaining in the second period and the Blazers down, 43-37. But Clyde remained in the game and had a hand in every point as his team went on a 13-3 tear and left at halftime with a 58-52 advantage ... Drexler finished with a team-high 23 points and 8 assists ... Cliff Robinson had 21 points for the Blazers, including 13 of 16 from the foul line, both career highs ... the Sonics' Ricky Pierce led all scorers with 28 points ... Portland hit .446 from the field (37 of 83) while limiting the Sonics to a .378 shot chart (34 of 90).

BLAZERS 113, SONICS 106 at Portland

April 10, 1992 (Game 78, 55-23)

Portland crashed the offensive glass for 19 rebounds, building a 32-11 advantage in second chance points, as the Blazers downed Seattle for the seventh straight time in Memorial Coliseum and the 13th time in the last 15 meetings here ... it was also Portland's 11th victory in its last 14 contests with the Sonics ... led by Terry Porter's perfect 11-for-11 performance from the free throw line, the Blazers converted 34 of 43 for the night, including 20 of 23 in the last quarter and 29 of 36 in the second half ... Porter led seven Blazers in double figures with 27 points and all 10 Portland players seeing action scored ... Portland won despite a 36-point performance by the Sonics' Eddie Johnson who was 15 of 24 from the field ... Portland had a 46-33 rebound edge.

BLAZERS vs. JAZZ -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

JAZZ 107, BLAZERS 103 at Salt Lake City
January 2, 1992 (Game 30, 19-11)

Utah's Tyrone Corbin scored six straight points in the game's final 34.5 seconds to save the win for the Jazz ... Portland led, 101-100 with 58.6 seconds remaining when Terry Porter was called for his sixth foul in a scramble after stealing the ball from John Stockton. Stockton made one of two free throws to tie the game and set up Corbin's late-game heroics ... Clyde Drexler led six Blazers in double figures with 21 points and had 11 rebounds and 8 assists. Jerome Kersey scored 18 points and Buck Williams had 14 on 7-of-8 shooting to go with 12 boards ... both teamshit .464 from the field, Portland on 45 of 97 and Utah on 39 of 84 ... the Jazz made 26 of 30 foul shots and the Blazers 10 of 13 ... Utah had command of the backboards, 45-42 ... Karl Malone (30) and Jeff Malone (23) led Utah scoring ... it was the Trail Blazers' 33rd loss in 40 games in Salt Lake City.

BLAZERS 110, JAZZ 107 at Portland
February 24, 1992 (Game 54, 38-16)

The Trail Blazers held off a furious Jazz rally in the game's final 1:54 to snuff a six-game Utah win streak ... Karl Malone, who had a game-high 30 points, and John Stockton combined for 29 fourth quarter points to fuel the Jazz surge ... but Clyde Drexler's tipin of his own miss, and two free throws by Danny Ainge in the final 35 seconds iced the victory for Portland, its fifth straight over the Jazz in Memorial Coliseum ... Drexler led Blazers scorers with 24 and had 8 assists, and Terry Porter had 17 points and 9 assists ... Jerome Kersey (7 of 9 from the field) and Buck Williams (6 of 7), contributed 15 points apiece ... Ainge scored 14 of his 16 points in the second half ... Stockton had 15 assists to go with his 21 points. Blue Edwards added 21 points to the Jazz cause ... the Trail Blazers shot .537 from the field (44 of 82) and the Jazz .512 (43 of 84) ... Utah outrebounded the Blazers by one, 34-33.

JAZZ 95, BLAZERS 77 at Salt Lake City
March 21, 1992 (Game 68, 48-20)

Portland shot only .352 (31 of 88) from the field, a low mark for the season, and produced its second lowest point total of the year in losing for the 19th time in its last 21 trips to Salt Lake City ... the loss narrowed the Blazer lead over Utah for the best record in the Western Conference to three games ... led by its bench, Utah buried Portland, 35-18, in the second quarter by hitting 13 of 18 shots from the floor ... the Jazz reserves outscored Portland's, 35-13 ... Karl Malone paced six Utah players in double figures with 22 points and had a game-high 18 rebounds ... Clyde Drexler led all scorers with 26 points ... Portland turnovers were a factor; Utah turned 19 Blazer miscues into 18 points ... Jazz center Mark Eaton blocked eight Blazer shots ... Portland was 12 of 19 (.632) from the free throw line while Utah converted 26 of 35 from the line (.743).

BLAZERS 118, JAZZ 86 at Portland
April 2, 1992 (Game 74, 52-22)

A stingy defense limited the Jazz to a .390 (32 of 82) shooting performance and Clyde Drexler was the spark at the offensive end with 33 points as Portland handed Utah its worst loss of the season ... it was the Blazers' second biggest win ever over the Jazz ... Drexler, playing on a sore knee, fired in 13 of 16 from the field and 6 of 7 from the line ... Terry Porter tallied 22 as the Blazer backcourt duo outscored Utah's John Stockton and Jeff Malone, 55-29 ... Jazz forward Karl Malone, the NBA's No. 2 scorer, managed only 10 points ... Stockton, the NBA assists leader, dished out a season-low 3 and had only 1 at halftime as the Jazz combined for a season low 14 assists ... Portland hit 14 of 20 shots in the second quarter, outscoring the Jazz, 35-16, to break the game open ... the Blazers were a hot .573 (43 of 75) for the game ... Portland controlled the boards, 43-31 ... it was the Blazers' sixth straight win at home over the Jazz.

BLAZERS vs. BULLETS -- 1991-92 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 91, BULLETS 87 at Portland

December 1, 1991 (Game 16, 10-6)

The Trail Blazers were just .402 from the floor (37 of 92) and only .652 from the free throw line but still managed to pull out their eighth win in nine contests against Eastern Conference teams ... the Bullets, playing without their top scorer, Michael Adams, had a tougher time from the field, connecting on only 34 of 86 shots, (.395) ... Clyde Drexler with a game-high 20 points and Terry Porter with 15 were the only two Blazers in double-figure scoring ... Larry Stewart led Washington with 19 points, A.J. English had 18, and Purvis Ellison 16 and a game-high 13 rebounds and 7 blocked shots... Jerome Kersey's 12 off the backboards helped Portland to a narrow 52-48 rebound advantage ... it was the Blazers' fourth straight victory over the Bullets, and the eighth in their last 10 outings ... Portland now has defeated Washington four straight in Memorial Coliseum.

BLAZERS 117, BULLETS 96 at Washington

February 28, 1992 (Game 56, 39-17)

Clyde Drexler led the way as the Trail Blazers scored their fifth straight win over the Bullets ... Drexler had a brilliant game, scoring 18 of his game-high 36 points in the third quarter. In that third period, Clyde was 5 of 6 from the field and 7 of 7 from the line. In addition to the 36 points on 11 of 18 from the floor, 3 of 4 three-pointers and 10 of 11 from the line, he had six rebounds, seven assists and two steals, all in 35 minutes of play ... Michael Adams led the Bullets with 26, 17 of them in the first half as Washington built a 50-48 lead at intermission ... Portland, led by Buck Williams' 10, outrebounded the Bullets, 51-31 ... Portland shot .518 (44 of 85) including a season-high .727 (8 of 11) from 3-point range ... Washington was held to a .433 (39 of 90) shot chart ... the Bullets scored more than a quarter of its points off 20 Portland turnovers.

A GUIDE TO NBA PERSONNEL PROCEDURES

ACTIVE LIST: A team must carry a minimum of 11, and no more than 12, players on its active roster. At no time shall a team be permitted to dress fewer than eight players for a regular season game or nine for a playoff game. During the offseason and training camp, teams may carry no more than 20 active players.

INJURED LIST: Any player placed on the injured list due to injury or illness must sit out at least five of his team's regular-season games before he may be restored to the active list. For players injured near the end of the season, the rule is to mean the players must sit out five games or as many games as remain in the regular season.

TRADING DEADLINE: No trades or sales among teams are permitted after 9:00 PM Eastern time, February 25. From that point to the end of the regular season, player additions can be made through the waiver procedure or by acquiring free agents.

WAIVERS: From August 15 to the end of the regular season, clubs may claim waived players within 48 hours after notice. Players waived at any other time may be claimed within 10 days. If no teams claim the waived player he becomes a free agent. If more than one club claims a waived player, the team with the lesser record at that time claims the player. The waiver price shall be $1,000 per player payable to the League Office.

TEN-DAY CONTRACT: On or after the 55th day following the season's first game, a team may sign a player to a 10-day contract solely for the purpose of replacing an injured player. No player may be signed to more than two 10-day agreements by a single team in the same season.

GUARANTEED CONTRACT DATE: On the 56th day of the regular season all player contracts become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

AMATEUR ELIGIBILITY RENUNCIATION: A player whose high school class has graduated shall become eligible for the college draft if he renounces his intercollegiate basketball eligibility by written notice to the NBA at least 45 days prior to the draft. Prior to 45 days before the draft, teams may not make direct or indirect contact with players who have eligibility left. Clubs may contact players without remaining eligibility but may not discuss compensation.

TRADING OF FIRST ROUND DRAFT CHOICES: No team may sell or trade its right to select a player in the first round of the college draft if the result of such an exchange would be to leave the club without first-round picks in any two consecutive college drafts.

PRE-DRAFT CAMPS: Prior to the college draft, teams are prohibited from conducting so-called "mini-camps" for prospective players eligible for the draft.

OPENING CEREMONIES for the Tournament of the Americas in Memorial Coliseum, the third leg of a fabulous string of basketball events that focused international attention on Portland for 29 days in June and July. The tournament was the Western Hemisphere's qualifying round for the 1992 Olympic Games in Barcelona and showcased the "Dream Team," aka TeamUSA. The U.S. team, made up of a sterling collection of NBA stars including the Blazers' Clyde Drexler, used the June 29 to July 5 tourney to launch its run for the Olympic Gold Medal. Earlier in June the Coliseum was the site of Games 3, 4 and 5 of the Portland-Chicago showdown for the NBA championship. The NBA Draft was conducted in Memorial Coliseum on June 24, the first time ever that nationally-televised event has taken place outside New York. Other teams in the Tournament of the Americas were Argentina, Brazil, Cuba, Mexico, Panama, Puerto Rico, Venezuela and Uruguay.

SOMETIMES THE BEST THERE IS COMES FROM OUT IN OREGON.

It's tough to beat a good team with home court support. That's why "Insurance from out in Oregon" makes so much sense for residents of the Pacific Northwest.

Standard offers outstanding life and disability insurance and retirement plans for individuals and groups. Outstanding products have led to sales success. Sound investment of the premiums and home office efficiency have provided financial strength. Standard's surplus-to-assets ratio is 7.6% and continues to lead the industry average.

Leading from strength, Team Standard consistently pays policyowners higher dividends than projected at the time of purchase. It pays to play ball with Standard. Forget the hoopla from big eastern insurance companies. Capitalize on your home court advantage!

BILL SCHONELY

"Good evening basketball fans, wherever you may be..." With that statement Bill Schonely is doing what he does best, and what few others do nearly as well. For 22 years and 2,062 games, Schonely brought Trail Blazers basketball to radio listeners from California north to Alaska.

This season, Schonely moves from behind the radio microphone to join the television broadcast team. Bill takes over as the play-by-play voice for 40 Blazer games broadcast by Blazer Cable and KGW, Channel 8, where he is reunited with his Blazer radio partner from 1979-1981, Steve Jones.

"I will always love radio, but I'm also really looking forward to being a part of the Blazers' TV and cable broadcasts. It's going to be a new challenge, but one that I am eagerly anticipating," said Schonely.

Schonely's voice is perhaps the most recognizable in Oregon, as well as throughout the NBA. Among active broadcasters, only the Lakers' Chick Hearn (30 years) has been with his team longer than Schonely. Bill called his 2,000th Blazer game last season in Portland's 125-117 triumph over Atlanta on January 24, 1992. With that experience has come a reputation as one of the best play-by-play men in the business. He's also become a national commodity as narrator of the NBA promotional spots that cover the country's television markets.

A native of Norristown, Penn., Schonz, as he's known to many, served in the U.S. Marine Corps before settling in Seattle where he's worked as sports director of KVI radio for seven years. He served as the voice of the Seattle Totems of the Western Hockey League (and would later work for the NHL's Oakland Seals), University of Washington football, and Seattle Angels and Seattle Pilots baseball teams. The Pilots departed after just one season and the newly-created Portland Trail Blazers of the NBA came calling in search of their first announcer.

Schonely is very visible in the Portland community regularly lending his support to charitable causes, such as those sponsored by The American Heart Association, Doernbecher and the Kidney Association of Oregon. Bill and his wife, Dottie, reside in Lake Oswego.

Blazers fans in Oregon and Southwest Washington will have lots of opportunities to watch their favorite team on television during the 1992-93 season. In all, 47 games---more than half the regular-season schedule--will be televised through the combined efforts of Blazer Cable, KGW-TV, NBC and TNT. The schedule includes 20 Blazer Cable games, 20 on flagship station KGW-TV (Channel 8), five on NBC and two on TNT.

BEFORE YOU BUY A COMPACT CAMCORDER ASK, "WILL ITS TAPES PLAY IN MY VCR?"

Panasonic introduces the new Palmcorder™ Camcorder. Yes, it's VHS. So its tapes will play in any VHS recorder. Yours, your family's and your friends'.

Before you buy a compact camcorder, make sure its tapes will play in the VHS recorder you already own. Otherwise you'll have to connect your camcorder to your TV every time you watch a tape. And that's not just inconvenient, it means your camcorder will get twice the wear.

Watching what you've shot with the Panasonic Palmcorder is easy. Its tapes simply slip into the included PlayPak and then into your VHS recorder like any ordinary tape. The Panasonic PV-42 Palmcorder gives you an outstanding picture. And to make that picture even better, there's Digital Image Stabilization to help hold the picture steady even when your hand shakes. A 20 to 1 digital zoom. One-lux low-light capability. Even a color enhancement light.

So, before you buy a compact camcorder, make sure its tapes will play in your VHS recorder. They will if it's a Panasonic Palmcorder. ❑

The PlayPak lets you play your tape in your VCR or send it to your family, your friends, or anyone with a VHS recorder.

STEVE JONES

One of the up-and-coming talents in the new era of the NBA on NBC, Steve Jones is certainly no stranger to Trail Blazer fans, or, for that matter, to NBA fans across the country. Jones is in his tenth year sitting courtside as analyst for the 40 Blazer games broadcast by Blazer Cable and KGW Channel 8.

While honing his talents with Blazer Broadcasting since the 1976-77 season, Jones has become very visible on the national scene the last four years. He served three years with TNT and TBS before joining the NBC team when the network obtained the NBA's television rights prior to the 1990-91 season. This summer, Jones served as a basketball analyst with Chick Hearn and Jim Durham in Barcelona, Spain, as part of the NBC/TripleCast production of men's basketball during the 1992 Summer Olympics. During the Olympics, he worked the equivalent of almost one-half of an NBA season, 36 games, in just two weeks.

Jones' broadcasting career began in 1976 (the season after he retired), when he became a color commentator for CBS. He was part of the network's announcing crew that handled the Trail Blazers famed Championship game. Also that year, he served as color analyst for the Blazers. Jones continued for three seasons with CBS, also working with the Denver Nuggets during that time. He served a stint with the USA Cable Network as a commentator for NBA contests.

This season Jones will be reunited with his former radio partner, Bill Schonely. The two worked together behind the Blazer radio microphone from 1979 until 1981, when Jones stepped aside to devote a full-time effort to the club's talk show, now known as "Courtside...with Steve Jones", aired 85 minutes prior to every game. He co-hosts the weekly program "Courtside: Monday Night" thoughout the year.

Jones is a native of Portland who led Franklin High School to the state basketball championship in 1959 before going on to a standout career at the University of Oregon. He paced the Ducks in scoring during the 1963-64 season. Jones earned all-star honors during eight seasons in the now-defunct ABA, then played the 1975-76 season with the Trail Blazers before retiring.

When not behind a microphone or on an airplane, Jones can often be found on the tennis court.

BLAZER COURTSIDE

"Courtside...with Steve Jones" airs for 50 minutes on KEX (AM 1190) 85 minutes prior to every game. "Courtside: Monday Night" airs on KEX from 6:05 to 8 p.m. Monday nights 48 weeks a year hosted by Steve Jones and Pat Lafferty. Fans can participate in both shows by calling 225-1190 from Portland, 585-1990 from Salem, 256-1190 from Vancouver and 1-800-432-DUNKelsewhere.

MIKE RICE

Veteran head basketball coach and basketball commentator Mike Rice begins his third year as analyst on the team's radio broadcast.

Rice was an honorable mention All-America selection at Duquesne as a senior, when he led the Dukes to a third-place national ranking and an NIT invitation. Selected in the eighth round of the 1962 NBA Draft by the Detroit Pistons, Rice opted instead to pursue a career in coaching. After recording a 245-71 (.773) ledger in 13 years at the high school level, Rice entered the college ranks in 1977 as an assistant coach at his college alma mater.

After being named head coach of the Dukes that year, he guided them to a 62-49 (.559) record from 1978-1982. After leading Duquesne to two NIT appearances and twice earning Eastern Eight "Coach of the Year" honors, Rice went on to Youngstown State in 1982. During his five-year tenure, the Penguins earned a 20-win season and two second-place finishes in the Ohio Valley Conference. Twice he coached squads to the title game in the OVC tournament.

Rice moved to the broadcast booth in 1987 as a college basketball analyst for ESPN. A regular on ESPN's "Big Monday" lineup, he provided commentary for the games in the Big West as the primary analyst for the Western Athletic Conference. In addition to numerous regular season contests, Rice has also worked women's NCAA regional championship games, the Division II national championship game and high school all-star games. In 1989, he added additional broadcast duties with SportsChannel America as the primary analyst on their World Basketball League broadcasts. The WBL was familiar territory to Rice, who joined the Youngstown Pride in 1987 first as head coach, and later as director of basketball operations.

His wife Kathy is a former Duquesne Duchess basketball player. The couple has two daughters, Susan and Stephanie, both graduates of Syracuse University where they played tennis and one son, Mike, who has played basketball at Fordham University.

SCOTT LYNN returns for his third season as host of "The Fifth Quarter" following each home and road Trail Blazers game broadcast on KEX Radio, 1190 AM. Fans are invited to call in and talk with Scott about their favorite basketball topics. Lynn, who serves as sports director of KEX, has been with the station since May, 1989. Prior to KEX, he was sports director at KGW-TV, where during his nine-year tenure was a three-time recipient of the Oregon Sportscaster of the Year Award. He also earned Oregon AP broadcasting awards for best sports report and best sports special. Born in Lincoln, Ill., Scott is a graduate of Southern Illinois University where he received a degree in mass communication.

PAUL "PUBLIO" CASTRO returns for his third season to handle the Spanish language broadcasts of Trail Blazer basketball. And, for the third consecutive year, all 41 Blazers regular season home games will be broadcast in Spanish by KWBY Radio, 940 AM, in Woodburn, Ore. A 1990 graduate of Oregon State University's broadcasting program, Castro, 30, began broadcasting Blazers home games in Spanish prior to the 1989-90 season. A former basketball player at Woodburn High School, he began his association with KWBY during his student days at OSU. Last season, the Trail Blazers joined the San Antonio Spurs, Houston Rockets and Miami Heat as the only teams in the National Basketball Association to broadcast games in Spanish.

After all, you're busy. Well, they're about as uncomplicated as you can get. Kind of like our Triple Option Plan. Which lets your employees choose either the cost advantages of our HMO and PPO plans, or if they want to pick their own doctor, our more traditional indemnity plan. And that choice is theirs each and every time they see a doctor or go to the hospital. So you can make everyone happy by offering just one health plan. Ours. We'll even do all the paperwork. To learn more about it or any of our quality health plans, call your agent, broker or PACC at (503) 659-4212. And then you won't have to look at any more rocks.

Besides, you've got other things to do.

THE DRIVER HAS ALL THIS & BRAINS, TOO.

The 1993 Paseo is no mere sports coupe. Sure, its sleek good looks and gutsy horsepower are certain to attract lots of attention. And with higher performance features like a finely tuned suspension and 5-speed gearbox, who's to argue.

But once you get past that initial physical attraction, you're going to find good old Toyota reliability at the heart of the Paseo. Most surprising of all is its price tag. Which is another way of saying the Paseo will also appeal to your intellectual side.

See your local Toyota dealer for a test drive of the Paseo. The car that proves beauty and brains are not mutually exclusive.

"I love what you do for me."
